Boy, 9, Slips 125 Feet Into Former Quarry

Cops and Firemen Save S. Werner; Pals Hear Faint Voice for Help

A nine-year-old boy who plunged 125 feet down a rock crevice in the abandoned quarry below Hasbruck Park late yesterday afternoon was reported to be in "good" condition at Kingston Hospital today

Hospital authorities said Stuart Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Werner of 23 Chambers street, had "spent a good night" and was improving.

A team of police and firemen managed to get the boy out as darkness closed in and a waiting ambulance rushed him to the hospital where he was reported to have sustained lacerations of the forehead and head, contusions of the left arm and possible internal injuries.

Exploring Caves

As the story was pieced together, Stuart was playing in Hasbrouck Park with two other youngsters, Norman Blinder, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Blinder of 68 Broadway and Donald Abrams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dehn Abrams of Hasbrouck avenue, when they decided to "explore some caves" in the old quarry where rock was once "mined" for use in the manufacture of cement.

As they made their way through the jumble of rocks Stuart suddenly disappeared. They could hear his voice rising faintly from the crevice below calling for help but were unable to descend. They went for help.

Police Trapped Too

It is believed that Stuart fell into the depths of the quarry about 5 o'clock. Police headquarters was notified and dispatched Officers John W. Frasch and Edward J. Edwards to the scene. Arriving about 5:30 p. m., they managed to descend to the boy who was wedged in the huge crack but were unable to remove him. They also discovered that they were unable to make their way up again to the top of the quarry.

Shortly before 6 p. m., firemen reached the quarry and Philip Ahl descended by rope to the boy. With the assistance of Officers Frasch and Edwards they managed to make their way back up the crevice, passing Stuart up from one to the other. The boy apparently did not fall the full distance, his descent having been broken at several levels as he slipped and tumbled down.

Lighting System Used

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who was having dinner at his home, was notified and rushed to the scene. The fire department also dispatched Truck 1 with Deputy Chiefs Harold Sanford and George Matthews and Firemen Ahl, Fred Williams and Edwin Van Etten.

As darkness descended the truck's lighting system was used to illuminate the scene. The rope by which Ahl went down to the boy was secured to a boulder at the top of the quarry.

Chief Murphy said the boy was apparently so far down that they had to call quite loudly to make themselves heard.

Mrs. Blinder said her son, Norman, told her that Stuart "just

Sponsors Acting To Repair Damage In Convent Fire

Leaders in Religious, Civic, and Other Fields Help Institution in Distress

A list of sponsors for Operation Valentine to raise funds for the repair of Angel House, a dormitory at the Convent of St. Ann, 287 Broadway, was released today by Mrs. Raymond Wells, chairman of the drive.

They are Sen. Arthur H. Wicks, Mayor Frederick H. Stang, former Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, David A. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bishop, Richard O. Gruver, N. LeVan Haver, Dr. Arthur W. Hazenbush, the Rev. P. W. Hill, the Rev. Lewis Huber, William R. Kraft, Dr. John B. Krom, Dr. Elbert F. MacFadden, Lauren Minasian, Dr. John R. Roberts, the Rev. Robert P. Shellenberger, the Rev. Herald Swezy and Edward B. Thomas.

100 Give Donation

Mrs. Wells said that more than 100 letters had been mailed in the campaign for money to repair damage caused by a fire which broke out in the dormitory on the night of December 17. The children are now housed in the convent itself.

Mrs. Wells said that in the letter the name of the Rev. Mr. Shellenberger had been inadvertently

Teachers Deny All of $273,000 to Be Paid by City

Two Organizations Say Board Leaves Out Mention of Aid From State

The salary schedule proposed by Kingston teachers would not cost the city $273,000 as claimed by the board of education, it was charged today by the Kingston Teachers Association and the Kingston Teachers Federation.

The board gave the impression that the entire amount must be paid by the community, they said, but failed to indicate that part of it would be paid for out of additional state aid.

$153,564 Actual Cost

The actual cost of the new raise would amount to approximately $153,564 and not $273,000, they said.

This would mean an increase of approximately $4.65 in taxation per thousand for the new raise and not $8.31 as claimed by the board of education, according to the teachers.

They explained that the Dewey-sponsored bill for $25,000,000 in additional state aid would amount to at least $300 per teacher, a total of $70,800.

They pointed out that although the Dewey aid was "not earmarked" for teacher pay the governor had strongly recommended such application. It is the feeling of the teachers that the additional aid should be applied to teachers' salaries.

Break-Down of Figures

Breaking down the figures offered by the teachers, the total cost of the raise and pension fund would amount to $281,014.

The cost in taxation, if it were to come completely from the local community, would amount to approximately $8.51 per thousand, they claim.

Now, they say, take away the $300 per teacher the state will give as additional money for 1954-55. This would amount to $70,800. This leaves $210,214 cost to the community, or an increase in the tax rate of $6.37.

From $210,214 subtract the total of increases the teachers would get anyway under the old schedule, amounting to $56,650, the teachers explain, and the result is a figure of $153,564—cost of the new raise to the local community.

Stress Clarity

In presenting their figures to the public, the teachers said, they wanted to make it emphatically clear that they were not without concern for the taxpayer's pocketbook — they being taxpayers themselves — but that their "greater concern" was with "the education of our children."

The teachers also rejected flatly the board claim that under the proposed salary schedule the local tax would "hit a $40 rate."

They explained that any estimate approaching such a rate was based on the assumption that all of the teachers would be drawing maximum pay under the schedule—an impossibility. They said that "at no time would all the teachers in the Kingston schools be at the maximum. Therefore, by the schedule, a $40 rate as a direct result of teacher salary increments would be an impossibility."

Point to Losses

The teacher organizations pointed out that many teachers would retire before reaching the maximum step in the schedule, that others would leave the system, etc.

The teachers said they realized

Pope Shows Some Gain; Condition Still Called Weak

Vatican Spokesman Feels Pontiff May Soon Be Given Nourishment; Has Fair Night

Vatican City, Feb. 6 (AP)—Pope Pius XII shows symptoms of a very slight improvement, but "the state of general weakness persists," his private doctor announced today.

The doctor, Prof. Riccardo Galeassi-Lisi, said the Pope passed "a moderately fair" night.

A Vatican spokesman, Msgr. Anbelo Dell'acqua of the Secretary of State's Office, said there was hope the enfeebled pontiff, 77, might be able better to take some nourishment.

The Pope's trouble keeping down food has caused anxiety. To help maintain his strength, he has been fed intravenously.

Stricken Jan. 25

The Rome newspaper Il Tempo said the Pope, the spiritual leader of 400 million Roman Catholics throughout the world, had not left his bed in his third floor apartment in the Vatican Palace since he was stricken Jan. 25. He tried to rise once or twice, the newspaper said, but was too feeble to do so.

Prof. Galeazzi-Lisi, in issuing yesterday the first bulletin he had ever revealed on the Pope's health, revealed a hope that it would be possible soon to "repeat particular X-ray examinations" of the stomach and other nearby organs. Vatican sources said the Pontiff's inability to retain the fluid necessary to make the X-rays had balked the earlier efforts.

Prof. Galeazzi-Lisi hurried to the pontiff's bedside early this morning. He had left at 10 p. m. last night to get some sleep.

Remains With Pontiff

Throughout the night Dr. Paul Niehans, a Swiss specialist in disorders and diseases of the aged, apparently remained in the Pope's apartment. The desk attendant at his Rome hotel said the doctor had been away from his room there all night. Dr. Niehans is noted for many operations on the prostate gland and research on glandular disturbances in the aged.

Another physician, called in yesterday, is a noted Italian general practitioner, Dr. Cesare Frugoni.

In St. Peter's Basilica, Romans and pilgrims from other cities prayed for the Pope whose light fever and symptoms of gastritis remain an unsolved problem.

Judge Holds Back Decision on Motion In New Paltz Case

Gabrielli Would Vacate Order of Examination Secured by Lawyer for Assessors

Decision was reserved by Justice Isadore Bookstein at special term Friday on a motion to vacate four notices of examination before trial and seven subpoenas sought by the Board of Assessors of the Town of New Paltz in an assessment review brought by Ralph Gabrielli, et al, petitioners of New Paltz.

Gabrielli moved to vacate the order of examination which had been secured by Peter Harp, attorney for the board of assessors.

This is one of a series of assessment review actions brought by Gabrielli and others of the township who allege the board of assessors has shown favoritism in laying assessments on certain properties.

The motion to vacate was opposed by Peter Harp who told the Court the examination was necessary to prepare for trial of the review actions.

Justice Bookstein gave respondent, the board of assessors, an opportunity to submit affidavits and reserved decision in the matter, allowing the petitioner, Gabrielli, time to reply to the affidavits.

Gabrielli seeks to have the assessment roll set aside and new assessments laid.

Benedictine Hospital Reports Progress, Need for School

Monsignor Martin F. Drury, president of the Benedictine Hospital, at the annual hospital staff meeting Tuesday reported an increase of one thousand patients last year over 1952, which indicated that all departments were taxed to full capacity. He also stressed the fact that the increased census shows the need for the erection of a more adequate nursing school and residence which will provide sufficient nurses for the increased bed capacity of the hospital.

Since early in December the first floor of the new wing could have been occupied if graduate nurses were available, he asserted. When larger quarters are provided for the student nurses of the Benedictine Hospital, he said, the whole community will benefit.

Sister M. Berenice, superintendent, reviewed the work of the hospital in the following report:

It is indeed a pleasure to tell you that we can review the general progress made by the Benedictine Hospital in 1953 with justifiable pride and continued optimism for the future. We are grateful to Almighty God for having given us the foresight and courage in the erection of our new modern addition which has not only met with the approval of the public-at-large, but which has far exceeded their expectations. It is also a happy augur for the future usefulness of the Benedictine Hospital that the expansion program of the hospital is completed at a time when there is ferment of growth, change and improvement in the complexion of this fine community which we are privileged to serve.

We are all conscious of and familiar with the important plans that are now being developed by the IBM to establish one of their fine plants in Kingston This project will, no doubt, bring thousands of families into the area who will at some time need hospital service. With the above progress in mind, we must direct our thoughts and efforts to future needs as well as on present problems.

Mortgage Reduced

Of course, we do not pretend that our financial problems are permanently solved. This would be impossible with our present mortgage which, however, has been reduced considerably due to the payment of campaign pledges and a number of new pledges plus an allotment received from the federal government and several generous contributions received from friends during the past year, all of which has been assigned to the Benedictine Hospital Building Fund. Therefore, serious thought must now be given to the erection of a nurses' residence if we are to accept the number and type of applicants that are applying to our school of nursing each year. Late in 1951 the school was surveyed and its comparative strength and weak points listed. The survey indicated that the erection of a new resi-

Welfare Costs for County Reported by Commissioner

Welfare in Ulster county has become "big business," the annual report of County Commissioner of Public Welfare Edward E. Murray reveals.

A considerable amount of the welfare money spent is reimbursed to the county from public funds.

During 1953 the total assistance grants for Old Age Assistance in Ulster county amounted to $786,444.18, of which $451,518.59 was non-medical grants. The total medical and hospital costs during the year amounted to $334,925.59, of which $60,127.70 was for doctors fees and $59,800.49 was for hospitalization. Other items in the total expenditure were for dentists, drugs and other expenses. Convalescent and Nursing Homes were paid a total of $176,770.95 and other hospitals received $59,800.49 from the total of $334,925.59 which went for medical and hospital relief of the aged.

The average number of applications per month for Old Age assistance was 27 and the average number of applications accepted was 19 and eight applications on an average were rejected each month. The average number of cases per month was 1050 and the average cost per case per month was $62.42.

In his annual report to the Board of Supervisors, Commissioner Edward E. Murray submitted a detailed report on the gross amount of welfare money expended last year in the various branches of assistance.

Assistance to the blind amounted to $14,010.17, of which $5,637.21 was for medical and hospital costs. The average number of cases per month was 19 and the average cost per month during 1953 was $61.45.

Aid to Dependent Children cost a total of $152,727.24 in grants of which $21,137.45 was for medical and hospital care. The average number of children given aid per month was 366 and the average cost per case per month was $99.43. Assistance granted for non-medical cases amounted to a total of $13,589.79.

Sideswipe Reports Checked by Police

Two separate accident reports were filed with different agencies by motorists who said they were sideswiped by unknown vehicles on Route 32 near Bloomington about 9:30 p. m. Thursday. It is expected state police and the sheriff's department will compare notes today to find out whether there was one accident or two.

Jacob Senor, 41, of 35 Grove street, reported to the sheriff's office that the left side of his station wagon was damaged when it was sideswiped by an unknown vehicle on Route 32 at Bloomington between 9:30 and 9:45 p. m. Thursday. Senor said he was driving north, toward Kingston, and the other vehicle was proceeding south, toward Rosendale.

Meanwhile, state police were notified by New Paltz police that John H. Schoonmaker of Campbell Hall reported to them that his two-door sedan was sideswiped by an unknown vehicle about 9:30 p. m. Thursday near Bloomington. Schoonmaker said he was driving south. No injuries were listed on either report.

Supervisor Turck Gives Reasons on His Arterial Stand

Tells Press He Explained Negative Vote at Meeting; Says He's No 'Yes-Man'

Supervisor Joseph J. Turck (D) of the Fourth Ward has taken exception to the report that he registered an unexplained vote against the Arterial Route at the board meeting in the Ulster county court house, Thursday night.

Turck told a reporter today that he voted in the negative, because "most of the people I talked to in my ward seemed to oppose the route."

The Fourth Ward supervisor was alone in his stand, the other 32, Republicans and Democrats at the meeting voting for the state proposal, with the provision that various projects be approved seperately.

"I'm no yes-man," Turck stressed. "I'm convinced the people I represent are against accepting the plan, in the majority, and I voted that way."

Quotes His Speech

Turck repeated for the press the remarks he said he made at the meeting:

"I am opposed to the entire arterial plan because, in my honest opinion it is unnecessary.

"It is being pushed at us too fast.

"For one thing, when the thruway is completed most north bound traffic will be on the thruway instead of coming up on 9W, or over the Rondout bridge into Kingston.

"And, when the bridge is built over the Hudson river, just outside of Kingston, there will be more traffic taken away from our city.

"Therefore, in my opinion, there will be less traffic coming into Kingston at that time than there

Decision Reserved In Contract Suit For Water Line

Low Bidders Make Claims to Job on Basis Error Made in Report by Engineer

Basing its action on alleged misinformation concerning capability and responsibility, the firm that bid lowest on the laying of 5,630 feet of 20-inch line for the Kingston Water Department, has started court action for the contract awarded to another concern.

The contract was given to Beckerle-Brown, Inc., of Pearl River, whose bid was $98,876. The S. & S. Construction Company, South Fallsburg, operated by Ivan Strauss and Nathan Shapiro, bid $98,376.50.

Decision on the application of the S. & S. Construction Company to cancel the contract was reserved in Supreme Court here today by Justice Isadore Bookstein at a special term.

Corporation Counsel James Abernethy was given until next Wednesday to file a memorandum on law and petitioner has until February 15 to reply.

Board Cites Right to Reject

It is the contention of the Kingston Water Board that it had a right to reject any or all bids on the pipe line running from the filter house of the local water system to Jockey Hill.

The new line is to replace the present 18-inch pipe for the purpose of increasing pressure.

It is the allegation of the S. & S. Company that the water commissioners gave the job to the other concern on recommendation of the water board's consulting engineer, who reported the Fallsburg concern was "slow" and had not submitted a report of financial responsibility.

Point to Later Letter

The S. & S. contractors further allege the engineer later wrote another letter stating he had

Ex-President Says Search for Reds Big Hoax in ADA Address

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said last night that "the recession that started on the farms last spring has already spread to the city streets—and a depression would do likewise." He scoffed at the "miracles" he said were promised by the Republican party.

In a speech before the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), Truman said, "I don't think there is any necessity for a depression."

"One thing is clear by now after a year of the Eisenhower administration," Truman said, "and that is the Republican party is not made up of miracle workers.

"* * * I have been watching and waiting for those miracles to happen that we were promised back in 1952. But there is something wrong somewhere. There seems to be a slight delay in the miracle business."

Truman ripped into the present administration's income tax cut, terming it "a rich man's tax relief measure if I ever heard of one."

"It seems to me strange that the President's economic report says that there is no real recession," Truman continued, "* * * but that we are not prosperous enough or sure enough of the future to increase the minimum wage."

The income level of the farmer and working man are beginning to decline, he said, "compared to the share of the businessman and the

Quake in Mexico Wrecks 4 Towns

Mexico City, Feb. 6 (AP) — A strong earthquake wrecked four towns in the tropical, coffee-growing state of Chiapas yesterday, killed many persons and spread damage and terror over an area 50 miles in diameter, a dispatch from Tuxtla Guitierrez said today.

Mercy planes were reported flying doctors, nurses, medicines and other supplies to the stricken zone, in the rugged jungle country center 70 miles northeast of Tuxtla Guitierrez, the capital and about 100 miles west of the Guatemalan frontier. Communications were disrupted.

Hillsides Crumbled

The first word to reach Mexico City came in a delayed telegram from a newspaper correspondent in the state capital. He offered no estimate of the total casualties or damage, but said the towns of Yajalon, Tita, Petalcingo and Chilon were hard hit by the mid-morning quake and hillsides crumbled.

Seismographs in New York, Boston, Cleveland, Pasadena and elsewhere in the United States had recorded a tremor at about 10:24 a. m. (EST) in the area of Mexico.

Speech Hits Democratic Forecasts

Nixon Calls Eisenhower Best to Lead World; Stresses Importance of Supporting Program

Washington, Feb. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower has advised Americans to ignore "prophets of gloom" and has promised them a "big brother partner in the federal government."

Addressing a cheering throng of more than 6,500 at a GOP box supper last night, Eisenhower sailed into Democratic predictions of hard times, saying "the United States doesn't need to fall."

And he emphasized he wants to conduct the presidency under the constitution "in the same general form" as it now stands.

He spoke only 12 minutes. In that time he took on two sets of critics—those, like former President Harry S. Truman, who say the country is now in a recession, and those who have been calling for a constitutional amendment that would limit the scope of treaties and give Congress more control over international agreements.

"We don't have to listen to the prophets of gloom who say we are going into this or that kind of stumble or fall," he declared as the crowd cheered.

Refers to Constitution

Then, without mentioning by name Sen. Bricker (R.-Ohio), whose constitutional amendment on treaty powers he has opposed, Eisenhower said:

"We must make certain that the genius of our constitution and our government shall not perish, that it shall belong....to those who come after us in the same general form that it has been received by us."

Bricker, who had preceded Eisenhower to the speakers' platform, touched off a roar of laughter when he alluded to the "family troubles" he said the Republicans have had.

"My Republican friends, I like Ike," he declared. The crowd howled approval.

Bricker said there had been "honest differences of opinion"

Dulles Will Ask Molotov Help in Panmunjom Case

U. S. Secretary Decides to Make Move in Big Four Talks on Monday

Berlin, Feb. 6 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has decided to ask Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov to use his influence with the Chinese Communists in an effort to break the Panmunjom deadlock on a Korean peace conference.

Dulles will make his move in big four secret talks here Monday.

At that time the question of Korea is to be brought up among the foreign ministers in connection with a Soviet proposal for a big five conference, including Communist China.

Will Deal on Issues

The United States position, diplomatic informants said, is that the American government will categorically reject any five-power conference which is of such a character as to recognize the Chinese Communist regime as one of the great powers. But it is willing to deal with Red China on specific and limited issues which can only be handled in that way.

A Communist crackdown on East German workers speaking out against Molotov's plan for the unification of Germany paralleled today's final session of the second week of the Big Four conference.

Made Many Arrests

East German police made scores of arrests. Interior Minister Willi Stoph, directing the crackdown, warned at an East Berlin rally last night that the Red government "will sharply suppress every attempt to disrupt democratic development of the republic." The warning came as a caution against any German demonstrations during the weekend recess of the Big Four.

Outbursts of opposition, all relatively feeble, developed in five scattered East German cities in the past five days.

Stock Market Continues Rise Almost Setting 24-Year High

By RADER WINGET

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—The stock market continued its headlong rise this week and posed a new threat to the old high marks.

It was the fifth straight weekly advance, and it put the market on average to within a short distance of creating a new high for nearly 24 years. . . .

Back of the drive this week were a variety of developments highlighted by a few key factors.

You will recall that the stock market hit a high mark in January of last year and then tumbled down to its low in September. Thereafter the market advanced briskly with a pause for year-end tax selling.

Since the first of this year the market has been going up in an almost straight line. There has been little time to pause for consolidation of the gains.

That very bullishness, and the fact that the market needed to halt only briefly for a breather had added to buying enthusiasm. The industrial segment of the market went through into new high ground this week, and that gave a big psychological push to the proceedings.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this weel gained $1.10 at $114.70. It was up $1.20 last week.

That average now stands only $1.60 under the 1953-54 peak of $116.30 established on Jan. 5, 1953. That level was the best since June 4, 1940, when it was at $116.60. It is interesting to note that the great bull market high in 1929 for the average was $157.70, and it plunged from that lofty height to $16.90 in 1932.

Buyers have had a solid basis for their decisions. Divided rates have remained high so far this year. The New York Stock Exchange this week reported that common shares listed on the exchange last year paid cash dividends amounting to $5,875,000,000, a record high up 3.6 per cent over the previous year.

In Washington, the moves on tax legislation have been extremely heartening to Wall Street, especially plans to modify double taxation on dividends and reduce the capital gains tax in some manner.

Also, in recent days there has

Therefore, by the schedule, a $40 rate as a direct result of teacher salary increments would be an impossibility."

Point to Losses

The teacher organizations pointed out that many teachers would retire before reaching the maximum step in the schedule, that others would leave the system, etc.

The teachers said they realized

Pope Shows Some Gain; Condition Still Called Weak

Vatican Spokesman Feels Pontiff May Soon Be Given Nourishment; Has Fair Night

Vatican City, Feb. 6 (AP)—Pope Pius XII shows symptoms of a very slight improvement, but "the state of general weakness persists," his private doctor announced today.

The doctor, Prof. Riccardo Galeassi-Lisi, said the Pope passed "a moderately fair" night.

A Vatican spokesman, Msgr. Anbelo Dell'acqua of the Secretary of State's Office, said there was hope the enfeebled pontiff, 77, might be able better to take some nourishment.

The Pope's trouble keeping down food has caused anxiety. To help maintain his strength, he has been fed intravenously.

Stricken Jan. 25

The Rome newspaper Il Tempo said the Pope, the spiritual leader of 400 million Roman Catholics throughout the world, had not left his bed in his third floor apartment in the Vatican Palace since he was stricken Jan. 25. He tried to rise once or twice, the newspaper said, but was too feeble to do so.

Prof. Galeazzi-Lisi, in issuing yesterday the first bulletin he had ever revealed on the Pope's health, revealed a hope that it would be possible soon to "repeat particular X-ray examinations" of the stomach and other nearby organs. Vatican sources said the Pontiff's inability to retain the fluid necessary to make the X-rays had balked the earlier efforts.

Prof. Galeazzi-Lisi hurried to the pontiff's bedside early this morning. He had left at 10 p. m. last night to get some sleep.

Remains With Pontiff

Throughout the night Dr. Paul Niehans, a Swiss specialist in disorders and diseases of the aged, apparently remained in the Pope's apartment. The desk attendant at his Rome hotel said the doctor had been away from his room there all night. Dr. Niehans is noted for many operations on the prostate gland and research on glandular disturbances in the aged.

Another physician, called in yesterday, is a noted Italian general practitioner, Dr. Cesare Frugoni.

In St. Peter's Basilica, Romans and pilgrims from other cities prayed for the Pope whose light fever and symptoms of gastritis remain an unsolved problem.

Judge Holds Back Decision on Motion In New Paltz Case

Gabrielli Would Vacate Order of Examination Secured by Lawyer for Assessors

Decision was reserved by Justice Isadore Bookstein at special term Friday on a motion to vacate four notices of examination before trial and seven subpoenas sought by the Board of Assessors of the Town of New Paltz in an assessment review brought by Ralph Gabrielli, et al, petitioners of New Paltz.

Gabrielli moved to vacate the order of examination which had been secured by Peter Harp, attorney for the board of assessors.

This is one of a series of assessment review actions brought by Gabrielli and others of the township who allege the board of assessors has shown favoritism in laying assessments on certain properties.

The motion to vacate was opposed by Peter Harp who told the Court the examination was necessary to prepare for trial of the review actions.

Justice Bookstein gave respondent, the board of assessors, an opportunity to submit affidavits and reserved decision in the matter, allowing the petitioner, Gabrielli, time to reply to the affidavits.

Gabrielli seeks to have the assessment roll set aside and new assessments laid.

Supervisor Turck Gives Reasons on His Arterial Stand

Tells Press He Explained Negative Vote at Meeting; Says He's No 'Yes-Man'

Supervisor Joseph J. Turck (D) of the Fourth Ward has taken exception to the report that he registered an unexplained vote against the Arterial Route at the board meeting in the Ulster county court house, Thursday night.

Turck told a reporter today that he voted in the negative, because "most of the people I talked to in my ward seemed to oppose the route."

The Fourth Ward supervisor was alone in his stand, the other 32, Republicans and Democrats at the meeting voting for the state proposal, with the provision that various projects be approved seperately.

"I'm no yes-man," Turck stressed. "I'm convinced the people I represent are against accepting the plan, in the majority, and I voted that way."

Quotes His Speech

Turck repeated for the press the remarks he said he made at the meeting:

"I am opposed to the entire arterial plan because, in my honest opinion it is unnecessary.

"It is being pushed at us too fast.

"For one thing, when the thruway is completed most north bound traffic will be on the thruway instead of coming up on 9W, or over the Rondout bridge into Kingston.

"And, when the bridge is built over the Hudson river, just outside of Kingston, there will be more traffic taken away from our city.

"Therefore, in my opinion, there will be less traffic coming into Kingston at that time than there

Decision Reserved In Contract Suit For Water Line

Low Bidders Make Claims to Job on Basis Error Made in Report by Engineer

Basing its action on alleged misinformation concerning capability and responsibility, the firm that bid lowest on the laying of 5,630 feet of 20-inch line for the Kingston Water Department, has started court action for the contract awarded to another concern.

The contract was given to Beckerle-Brown, Inc., of Pearl River, whose bid was $98,876. The S. & S. Construction Company, South Fallsburg, operated by Ivan Strauss and Nathan Shapiro, bid $98,376.50.

Decision on the application of the S. & S. Construction Company to cancel the contract was reserved in Supreme Court here today by Justice Isadore Bookstein at a special term.

Corporation Counsel James Abernethy was given until next Wednesday to file a memorandum on law and petitioner has until February 15 to reply.

Board Cites Right to Reject

It is the contention of the Kingston Water Board that it had a right to reject any or all bids on the pipe line running from the filter house of the local water system to Jockey Hill.

The new line is to replace the present 18-inch pipe for the purpose of increasing pressure.

It is the allegation of the S. & S. Company that the water commissioners gave the job to the other concern on recommendation of the water board's consulting engineer, who reported the Fallsburg concern was "slow" and had not submitted a report of financial responsibility.

Point to Later Letter

The S. & S. contractors further allege the engineer later wrote another letter stating he had

Ex-President Says Search for Reds Big Hoax in ADA Address

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said last night that "the recession that started on the farms last spring has already spread to the city streets—and a depression would do likewise." He scoffed at the "miracles" he said were promised by the Republican party.

In a speech before the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), Truman said, "I don't think there is any necessity for a depression."

"One thing is clear by now after a year of the Eisenhower administration," Truman said, "and that is the Republican party is not made up of miracle workers.

"* * * I have been watching and waiting for those miracles to happen that we were promised back in 1952. But there is something wrong somewhere. There seems to be a slight delay in the miracle business."

Truman ripped into the present administration's income tax cut, terming it "a rich man's tax relief measure if I ever heard of one."

"It seems to me strange that the President's economic report says that there is no real recession," Truman continued, "* * * but that we are not prosperous enough or sure enough of the future to increase the minimum wage."

Says Income Declining

The income level of the farmer and working man are beginning to decline, he said, "compared to the share of the businessman and the

Quake in Mexico Wrecks 4 Towns

Mexico City, Feb. 6 (AP) — A strong earthquake wrecked four towns in the tropical, coffee-growing state of Chiapas yesterday, killed many persons and spread damage and terror over an area 50 miles in diameter, a dispatch from Tuxtla Guitierrez said today.

Mercy planes were reported flying doctors, nurses, medicines and other supplies to the stricken zone, in the rugged jungle country center 70 miles northeast of Tuxtla Guitierrez, the capital and about 100 miles west of the Guatemalan frontier. Communications were disrupted.

Hillsides Crumbled

The first word to reach Mexico City came in a delayed telegram from a newspaper correspondent in the state capital. He offered no estimate of the total casualties or damage, but said the towns of Yajalon, Tita, Petalcingo and Chilon were hard hit by the mid-morning quake and hillsides crumbled.

Seismographs in New York, Boston, Cleveland, Pasadena and elsewhere in the United States had recorded a tremor at about 10:24 a. m. (EST) in the area of Mexico.

Speech Hits Democratic Forecasts

Nixon Calls Eisenhower Best to Lead World; Stresses Importance of Supporting Program

Washington, Feb. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower has advised Americans to ignore "prophets of gloom" and has promised them a "big brother partner in the federal government."

Addressing a cheering throng of more than 6,500 at a GOP box supper last night, Eisenhower sailed into Democratic predictions of hard times, saying "the United States doesn't need to fail."

And he emphasized he wants to conduct the presidency under the constitution "in the same general form" as it now stands.

He spoke only 12 minutes. In that time he took on two sets of critics—those, like former President Harry S. Truman, who say the country is now in a recession, and those who have been calling for a constitutional amendment that would limit the scope of treaties and give Congress more control over international agreements.

"We don't have to listen to the prophets of gloom who say we are going into this or that kind of stumble or fall," he declared as the crowd cheered.

Refers to Constitution

Then, without mentioning by name Sen. Bricker (R.-Ohio), whose constitutional amendment on treaty powers he has opposed, Eisenhower said:

"We must make certain that the genius of our constitution and our government shall not perish, that it shall belong....to those who come after us in the same general form that it has been received by us."

Bricker, who had preceded Eisenhower to the speakers' platform, touched off a roar of laughter when he alluded to the "family troubles" he said the Republicans have had.

"My Republican friends, I like Ike," he declared. The crowd howled approval.

Bricker said there had been "honest differences of opinion"

Dulles Will Ask Molotov Help in Panmunjom Case

U. S. Secretary Decides to Make Move in Big Four Talks on Monday

Berlin, Feb. 6 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has decided to ask Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov to use his influence with the Chinese Communists in an effort to break the Panmunjom deadlock on a Korean peace conference.

Dulles will make his move in big four secret talks here Monday.

At that time the question of Korea is to be brought up among the foreign ministers in connection with a Soviet proposal for a big five conference, including Communist China.

Will Deal on Issues

The United States position, diplomatic informants said, is that the American government will categorically reject any five-power conference which is of such a character as to recognize the Chinese Communist regime as one of the great powers. But it is willing to deal with Red China on specific and limited issues which can only be handled in that way.

A Communist crackdown on East German workers speaking out against Molotov's plan for the unification of Germany paralleled today's final session of the second week of the Big Four conference.

Made Many Arrests

East German police made scores of arrests. Interior Minister Willi Stoph, directing the crackdown, warned at an East Berlin rally last night that the Red government "will sharply suppress every attempt to disrupt democratic development of the republic." The warning came as a caution against any German demonstrations during the weekend recess of the Big Four.

Outbursts of opposition, all relatively feeble, developed in five scattered East German cities in the past five days.

Benedictine Hospital Reports Progress, Need for School

Monsignor Martin F. Drury, president of the Benedictine Hospital, at the annual hospital staff meeting Tuesday reported an increase of one thousand patients last year over 1952, which indicated that all departments were taxed to full capacity. He also stressed the fact that the increased census shows the need for the erection of a more adequate nursing school and residence which will provide sufficient nurses for the increased bed capacity of the hospital.

Since early in December the first floor of the new wing could have been occupied if graduate nurses were available, he asserted. When larger quarters are provided for the student nurses of the Benedictine Hospital, he said, the whole community will benefit.

Sister M. Berenice, superintendent, reviewed the work of the hospital in the following report:

It is indeed a pleasure to tell you that we can review the general progress made by the Benedictine Hospital in 1953 with justifiable pride and continued optimism for the future. We are grateful to Almighty God for having given us the foresight and courage in the erection of our new modern addition which has not only met with the approval of the public-at-large, but which has far exceeded their expectations. It is also a happy augur for the future usefulness of the Benedictine Hospital that the expansion program of the hospital is completed at a time when there is ferment of growth, change and improvement in the complexion of this fine community which we are privileged to serve.

We are all conscious of and familiar with the important plans that are now being developed by the IBM to establish one of their fine plants in Kingston This project will, no doubt, bring thousands of families into the area who will at some time need hospital service. With the above progress in mind, we must direct our thoughts and efforts to future needs as well as on present problems.

Mortgage Reduced

Of course, we do not pretend that our financial problems are permanently solved. This would be impossible with our present mortgage which, however, has been reduced considerably due to the payment of campaign pledges and a number of new pledges plus an allotment received from the federal government and several generous contributions received from friends during the past year, all of which has been assigned to the Benedictine Hospital Building Fund. Therefore, serious thought must now be given to the erection of a nurses' residence if we are to accept the number and type of applicants that are applying to our school of nursing each year. Late in 1951 the school was surveyed and its comparative strength and weak points listed. The survey indicated that the erection of a new resi-

Sideswipe Reports Checked by Police

Two separate accident reports were filed with different agencies by motorists who said they were sideswiped by unknown vehicles on Route 32 near Bloomington about 9:30 p. m. Thursday. It is expected state police and the sheriff's department will compare notes today to find out whether there was one accident or two.

Jacob Senor, 41, of 35 Grove street, reported to the sheriff's office that the left side of his station wagon was damaged when it was sideswiped by an unknown vehicle on Route 32 at Bloomington between 9:30 and 9:45 p. m. Thursday. Senor said he was driving north, toward Kingston, and the other vehicle was proceeding south, toward Rosendale.

Meanwhile, state police were notified by New Paltz police that John H. Schoonmaker of Campbell Hall reported to them that his two-door sedan was sideswiped by an unknown vehicle about 9:30 p. m. Thursday near Bloomington. Schoonmaker said he was driving south. No injuries were listed on either report.

Welfare Costs for County Reported by Commissioner

Welfare in Ulster county has become "big business," the annual report of County Commissioner of Public Welfare Edward E. Murray reveals.

A considerable amount of the welfare money spent is reimbursed to the county from public funds.

During 1953 the total assistance grants for Old Age Assistance in Ulster county amounted to $786,444.18, of which $451,518.59 was non-medical grants. The total medical and hospital costs during the year amounted to $334,925.59, of which $60,127.70 was for doctors fees and $59,800.49 was for hospitalization. Other items in the total expenditure were for dentists, drugs and other expenses. Convalescent and Nursing Homes were paid a total of $176,770.95 and other hospitals received $59,800.49 from the total of $334,925.59 which went for medical and hospital relief of the aged.

The average number of applications per month for Old Age assistance was 27 and the average number of applications accepted was 19 and eight applications on an average were rejected each month. The average number of cases per month was 1050 and the average cost per case per month was $62.42.

In his annual report to the Board of Supervisors, Commissioner Edward E. Murray submitted a detailed report on the gross amount of welfare money expended last year in the various branches of assistance.

Assistance to the blind amounted to $14,010.17, of which $5,637.21 was for medical and hospital costs. The average number of cases per month was 19 and the average cost per month during 1953 was $61.45.

Aid to Dependent Children cost a total of $152,727.24 in grants of which $21,137.45 was for medical and hospital care. The average number of children given aid per month was 366 and the average cost per case per month was $99.43. Assistance granted for non-medical cases amounted to a total of $13,589.79.

A total of $117,539.92 was expended in grants for Aid to Disabled of which $81,009.04 was for non-medical grants and $36,530.88 was for medical and hospital costs.

Stock Market Continues Rise Almost Setting 24-Year High

By RADER WINGET

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—The stock market continued its headlong rise this week and posed a new threat to the old high marks.

It was the fifth straight weekly advance, and it put the market on average to within a short distance of creating a new high for nearly 24 years.

Back of the drive this week were a variety of developments highlighted by a few key factors.

You will recall that the stock market hit a high mark in January of last year and then tumbled down to its low in September. Thereafter the market advanced briskly with a pause for year-end tax selling.

Since the first of this year the market has been going up in an almost straight line. There has been little time to pause for consolidation of the gains.

That very bullishness, and the fact that the market needed to halt only briefly for a breather had added to buying enthusiasm. The industrial segment of the market went through into new high ground this week, and that gave a big psychological push to the proceedings.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this weel gained $1.10 at $114.70. It was up $1.20 last week.

That average now stands only $1.60 under the 1953-54 peak of $116.30 established on Jan. 5, 1953. That level was the best since June 4, 1940, when it was at $116.60. It is interesting to note that the great bull market high in 1929 for the average was $157.70, and it plunged from that lofty height to $16.90 in 1932.

Buyers have had a solid basis for their decisions. Divided rates have remained high so far this year. The New York Stock Exchange this week reported that common shares listed on the exchange last year paid cash dividends amounting to $5,875,000,000, a record high up 3.6 per cent over the previous year.

In Washington, the moves on tax legislation have been extremely heartening to Wall Street, especially plans to modify double taxation on dividends and reduce the capital gains tax in some manner.

Also, in recent days there has

Health for All

Tuberculous Meningitis

If you are ever tempted to wish you lived back in "the good, old days" stop for a moment and look at your children. Could you wish for them anything less than the glowing health they have today, anything less than the protection they have from modern medical knowledge? The most dreadful moment in any parent's life is when the doctor says, "There is nothing we can do." Fortunately, those moments have become rare for the modern parent.

Tuberculous meningitis is one example of formerly hopeless diseases which are yielding to science. Young children who contract tuberculosis from an adult frequently develop this type of disease which attacks the meninges, or covering of the brain and spinal column. It is most common under the age of six and especially before the age of three, although older children and adults may have it. Until recently, it was practically 100 per cent fatal. The drugs streptomycin and isoniazid are now used in the treatment of the disease and are cutting down on deaths.

Because of the speed with which the disease progresses, early treatment is vitally important. Parents should be alert in recognizing possible symptoms, particularly if the child is known to have had contact with an adult who has TB. The early symptoms are not usually dramatic. The child may be irritable, have a low fever, and may have difficulty in eating with occasional vomiting. Later he may slip into a coma.

The child who has convulsions may be lucky, because the family is shocked into action and the doctor is called at once. If the doctor feels there is any possibility of tuberculous meningitis, he will probably have all members of the family X-rayed to find out whether there is a case of active TB. In a great majority of cases, the child has caught TB from someone in the immediate family.

Even with modern improvements in treatment, tuberculous meningitis is often fatal. It is certainly one of the most serious forms of tuberculosis. Many of its victims are left with permanent handicaps. Parents should protect their children against tuberculosis by making sure that everyone who lives or works in the home has periodic physical examination with a chest X-ray.

The mock play which he staged resulted in his conversion to Christianity. At the command of the Emperor, Genesius was tortured and beheaded. The Sacred Heart Program will be broadcast over WKNY weekdays at 6 a. m. and over WHUC, Hudson, weekdays at 10:45 a. m. and Sunday at 12:15 p. m .

Health for All

Tuberculous Meningitis

If you are ever tempted to wish you lived back in "the good, old days" stop for a moment and look at your children. Could you wish for them anything less than the glowing health they have today, anything less than the protection they have from modern medical knowledge? The most dreadful moment in any parent's life is when the doctor says, "There is nothing we can do." Fortunately, those moments have become rare for the modern parent.

Tuberculous meningitis is one example of formerly hopeless diseases which are yielding to science. Young children who contract tuberculosis from an adult frequently develop this type of disease which attacks the meninges, or covering of the brain and spinal column. It is most common under the age of six and especially before the age of three, although older children and adults may have it. Until recently, it was practically 100 per cent fatal. The drugs streptomycin and isoniazid are now used in the treatment of the disease and are cutting down on deaths.

Because of the speed with which the disease progresses, early treatment is vitally important. Parents should be alert in recognizing possible symptoms, particularly if the child is known to have had contact with an adult who has TB. The early symptoms are not usually dramatic. The child may be irritable, have a low fever, and may have difficulty in eating with occasional vomiting. Later he may slip into a coma.

The child who has convulsions may be lucky, because the family is shocked into action and the doctor is called at once. If the doctor feels there is any possibility of tuberculous meningitis, he will probably have all members of the family X-rayed to find out whether there is a case of active TB. In a great majority of cases, the child has caught TB from someone in the immediate family.

Even with modern improvements in treatment, tuberculous meningitis is often fatal. It is certainly one of the most serious forms of tuberculosis. Many of its victims are left with permanent handicaps. Parents should protect their children against tuberculosis by making sure that everyone who lives or works in the home has periodic physical examination with a chest X-ray.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, 74 John street, Kingston.

Gilpatric attended St. Mary's Parochial School from which he was graduated in 1942. He also was graduated from Kingston High School in 1946 and then attended Siena College for two years.

He prepared himself for the mortuary profession at that time by completing a two-year apprenticeship with his grandfather.

Served With Air Force

A veteran of service with the U. S. Air Force, Gilpatric is married to the former Jeanne McCutcheon. They have a son, James P. Gilpatric.

Gilpatric is a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society, Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus, in which he serves as worthy warden; Fourth Degree Assembly, K of C, Kingston Kiwanis Club, Kingston Post 150, American Legion, and the Catskill Mountain Funeral Directors' Association.

Arrests Are Ordered

Berlin, Feb. 6 (AP)—Jittery Red Gestapo agents moved into major industrial plants in the Russian zone today with orders to grab any German who demands free elections and clap him into jail. Chief Ernst Wollweber issued the decree to his secret police to smash a wave of unrest that started as soon as Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov stalled the Big Four parley on German unification. Fearful of another June 17, the East German Communist regime girded its forces to avoid the embarrassment of an outbreak at this critical time. It was clear the Russians were leaving this policing job to their zonal underlings.

Tough Course Ahead

Washington, Feb. 6 (AP)—The administration-backed bill to boost postal rates nearly a quarter billion dollars a year was over its first big hurdle today—but the toughest part of the course lay ahead. The House Post Office Committee yesterday voted out increases affecting the users of virtually every class of mail except parcel post, which previously was upped by separate action. The bill would raise the cost of mailing out-of-town letters from three to four cents to bring in 159 million dollars more revenue a year. It also would add another penny to the cost of the present six-cent air mail stamp, for a $15,600,000 annual revenue gain.

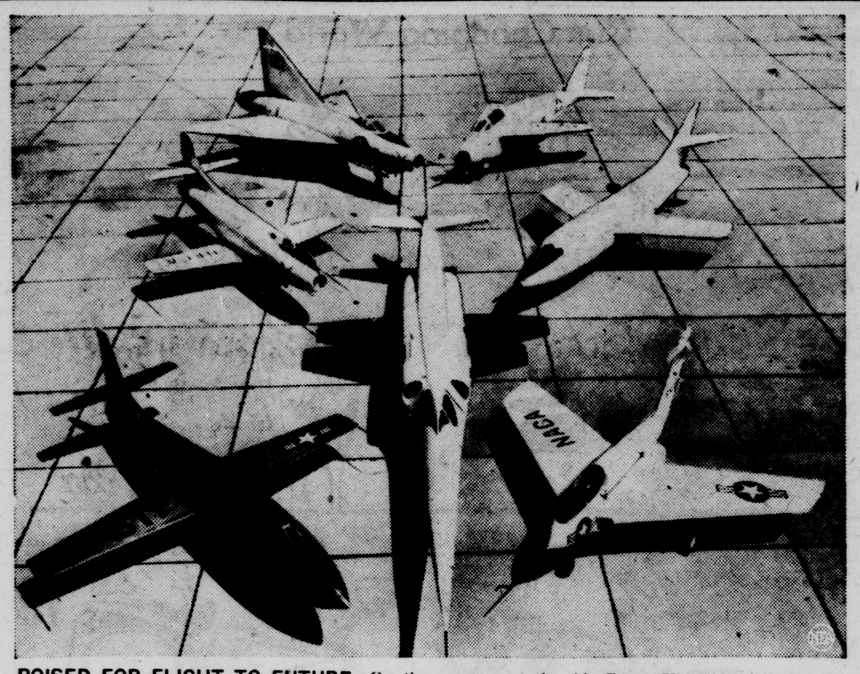

Scandinavian Split

Norway, which had been united with Denmark and Sweden, declared its independence in 1814, but the union of Norway and Sweden was not finally dissolved until 1905.

'Orphan' Finds He's Worth $6,800,000

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—An 11-year-old boy who since infancy had regarded himself as an orphan today had these staggering new facts to consider:

1. He has just inherited $6,800,000, less taxes.

2. His mother was the victim of one of the most sensational slayings in New York history.

3. His father is not dead, but imprisoned for the crime.

The boy on whom these overwhelming discoveries fell yesterday is William Anthony Burton. Before his name was legally changed in 1947 he was Wayne William Lonergan.

His father is Wayne Lonergan, a cafe society figure who was convicted of killing his wife in their swanky Beekman Hill apartment in 1943. Mrs. Lonergan, a wealthy socialite who was then only 22 years old, was bludgeoned and strangled.

Lonergan subsequently confessed the crime and was convicted of second degree murder. He will not be eligible for parole until 1967.

News Late After Fire

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—A smoky fire raged for an hour yesterday through the nine-floor annex of the 36-story New York Daily News building but the paper's first edition came out only a half hour later than usual. Starting in a third floor press room in mid-afternoon, the blaze sent heavy, black smoke pouring from windows and spread through the annex via ventilation pipes. Eight persons were slightly injured, including four firemen. 25 men reached safety by climbing down aerial ladders. As the smoke cleared, editorial workers went back to their desks.

Hvasta Gets Welcome

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—John Hvasta came back to his mother's arms today and said it was "with God's help" that he escaped from a Czech prison and eluded Red police for many months. The 26-year-old navy veteran from Hillside, N. J., home for the first time in more than five years, embraced his mother at Idlewild Airport and cried: "Thank God, thank God, thank God." Mrs. Michael Hvasta, the mother, tearfully hugged and kissed her son while other members of his family and officials from his home town crowded around to welcome the young man.

Seeks More Testimony

Washington, Feb. 6 (AP)—A senator investigating high coffee prices said today he wants more testimony from a witness who was retired as a bank president after saying Latin Americans were "apt pupils" in price raising. Sen. Bush (R.-Conn.) referred to Chester R. Dewey, retired president of the Grace National Bank of New York. Bush said he was "sorry if Mr. Dewey was retired because of his testimony and I hope he returns for more." The bank said Dewey was retired because of age.

Ill Feeling Forgotten

Panmunjom, Feb. 6 (AP)—Top UN and Indian commanders had lunch together today in advance of the Indians' departure from Korea where they guarded unrepatriated war prisoners. Any ill feeling resulting from the sometimes angry bickering of the past four months was drowned out in a round of "goodbyes" and thank you" speeches. The first contingent of about 1,000 Indian troops will leave Korea for home Feb. 8. The Repatriation Commission will be dissolved Feb. 22.

Two of the men were reported injured, one seriously. The rescue boat, unable to return to Hamilton Air Force Base because of heavy fog, landed at Ft. Baker near the northern end of the Golden Gate bridge.

Mayor Stang Checks

Mayor Frederick H. Stang said this morning he had inspected the scene of the accident with Jack Cochran, supervisor, and David Schecter, former alderman, both of the Sixth Ward in which the quarry is located. He said he was unable to reach the present alderman, George Norton, at the time.

He has instructed the police department to have the patrol car check the area when it is in the park and to chase children away if they find any in the vicinity of the quarry. He said he is also going to have danger signs erected on High street warning of danger.

Eight Perish in Fire

Roosevelt Trial Delayed

Pasadena, Calif., Feb. 6 (AP)—The separate maintenance suit against James Roosevelt, in which his wife accuses him of adultery with 12 women, won't go to trial for six or eight months, a judge said today. A crowded calendar will delay the case, said Superior Judge Kurtz Kauffman, who recessed a pre-trial hearing yesterday after a lawyer tried to question Roosevelt about one of the women. Kauffman ruled such questions will be proper only when Mrs. Romelle Schneider Roosevelt's suit for $3,500 monthly support actually is tried.

Three Robbers Choke Dog, Get $25,000 Loot

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—Three men strangled a watchdog last night before breaking into the home of a Brooklyn woman doctor and robbing her of $25,000 worth of bonds, jewelry and cash.

The victim was Dr. Louise M. Puglisi, 43, of (15 Harbor Lane) who lives in the exclusive Shore road section.

Dr. Puglisi was asleep with a three-year-old daughter, Louise, beside her, and an infant son in a crib nearby when she was awakened by the gun-carrying trio who had broken into the house through a kitchen window.

After threatening harm to Dr. Puglisi and her children if she made an outcry, the men brought a maid from her upstairs bedroom and bound and gagged her. Then they forced Dr. Puglisi to open a small bedroom safe. She said they took $500 in cash, jewelry worth $10,000 and $15,000 in non-negotiable U. S. Bonds.

Ike Cautions . . .

but that the GOP has "a singleness of purpose."

No GOP Split

"Let me make one thing clear," he said, "there is not now nor will there be, any split in the Republican party."

The Republicans who polished off chicken from $1.50 lunch boxes they held in their laps heard speaker after speaker lash the Democratic opposition with stronger words than the President used.

Vice President Nixon said that failure to carry out the President's program would result in swing by the nation to the "far left."

He said that if a Republican Congress is not elected in November "one of the major reasons will be that the Republicans themselves are divided."

And in international affairs, he continued, Eisenhower is "the best known salesman" to lead the free world.

Keep Ball Rolling

Rep. Halleck, House Republican leader, and Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, kept the Republican ball rolling with speeches at a party breakfast today.

Halleck said in a prepared address that no party ever took office under an inherited mess of such magnitude" as the Truman Administration left behind.

"It is natural—and I hope understandable—that we would have aches and pains during the first year of our labors," he said. "You might say, perhaps, that we have suffered a little from green apples from time to time."

Knowland told the box supper crowd that the Chinese Communists should not be admitted to the United Nations nor recognized by this country.

Hoover Gets Ovation

"We are not going to consent to a Far Eastern Munich or to the admission of Communist China to the United Nations," he declared.

Next to Eisenhower, former President Hoover got the biggest ovation of the night.

Hoover told the applauding Republicans that they can enter this year's campaign with "complete confidence."

"A wise and courageous President has created for the Republican Party a great and constructive program that has restored faith and hope to the American people," Hoover declared.

Supervisor Turck

is at present.

"I suggest that they wait and see how things will be before they raise our taxes, which they certainly will do once the plan is underway."

Refers to Meeting

Referring to the meeting of city aldermen and supervisors on January 28 in the city hall, Turck said, "I asked the state men present what the cost of the plan would be to the city of Kingston, and I was told it would be approximately $265,000.

"But, it was not a definite figure, just an estimate," Turck said. "It could be more.

"I asked them how this plan would affect our future taxes, and they told me they could not tell, but they said taxes would go up," Turck concluded.

36 in Crew Rescued

Manila, Feb. 6 (AP)—The British motorship Fernmoor plunged to the bottom of the China Sea today and her crew of 36 was rescued from lifeboats. The crewmen were picked up by the Panamanian ship Liberal. The Liberal picked its way through dangerous reefs to within a mile of the 5,012-Fernmoor, which ripped open its bottom on a coral reef Friday.

Truman Believes

corporations and the landlords. Our national wealth is being distributed in reverse, from the poor to the rich."

Truman spoke to a nationwide (CBS) radio audience as well as to the more than 1,000 persons at the ADA banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The former President called the GOP search for Communists in government one of the biggest hoaxes ever attempted in American history."

Few Communists Then

"When the Republicans took over the government on Jan. 20, 1953," he said, "if there were any Communists in the government service they were very, very few indeed."

Truman accused Republican campaigners in 1952 of lying about the Communist menace. And when they took office, he said they "lacked the courage," to admit it.

"We can be against communism without being dishonest about it," Truman said, "without slinging mud and smearing everyone with whom we disagree."

Questions Statement

Regarding Eisenhower's statement, at a press conference and in his State of the Union message, that 2,200 government employes had been gotten rid of as security risks, Truman had this to say:

"It seems to me that the presidential press conference and the State of the Union message ought not to be used for such deceptive practices as this.

"Who is included in the 2,200? The administration refuses to say. How was the number arrived at? The administration refuses to say. But some of the facts are beginning to come out just the same.

"Few of them do any credit to the 'great crusade.'"

Hits Farm Attitude

Truman criticized the GOP administration for "almost callous indifference" to farm problems.

"The farmer, we are now told," Truman said, "was not promised 100 per cent of parity through support prices—he was promised only 100 per cent if he can get it in the market place, which is exactly the same as no promise at all."

"The cold war is still with us," Truman said, "the Soviet menace has not disappeared. The budget is not balanced, and won't be.

"At any rate, it is clear the problems of the country have not melted away before the Republican party."

Decision Reserved

been in error as to the report and that he had misunderstood the report of an investigation.

The petitioners ask cancellation of the award to the Pearl River firm on the basis that the water board acted on the alleged erroneous report of the engineer, who they claim was an agent of the board.

Beckerle-Brown, Inc., objected through counsel to rescinding the contract on the grounds they had started the project and have thousands of dollars worth of material on the job site or in transit.

Stresses City's Right

The firm further contends the city had a right to award the contract to them under the law.

Newberg & Sakossky, South Fallsburg law firm, representing S. & S. Construction Company, said the company would be willing to take over the materials on hand if awarded the job.

Teachers Deny

that what they asked would require a tax increase but said they felt the crisis in education today mandated such a raise.

Other communities throughout the nation are facing similar problems, they stated. It was pointed out that two small school systems in this area, Fallsburg and Ellenville, had already granted increases amounting to approximately $850 more per teacher than is being paid in the Kingston school system.

Sponsors Acting

omitted from the list of sponsors.

It is estimated that approximately $3,000 more than the insurance will be required to repair the damage to the roof of Angel House.

Separate From Church

Mrs. Wells said the Rt. Rev. Charles F. Boynton, DD, suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, wished to make it clear that the Convent of St. Ann "exists only on voluntary donations and gifts, receiving no financial aid from the Episcopal Church" and that "this particular order is a complete entity in itself and has no mother house to which it can appeal for funds."

Arrests Are Ordered

Berlin, Feb. 6 (AP)—Jittery Red Gestapo agents moved into major industrial plants in the Russian zone today with orders to grab any German who demands free elections and clap him into jail. Chief Ernst Wollweber issued the decree to his secret police to smash a wave of unrest that started as soon as Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov stalled the Big Four parley on German unification. Fearful of another June 17, the East German Communist regime girded its forces to avoid the embarrassment of an outbreak at this critical time. It was clear the Russians were leaving this policing job to their zonal underlings.

Tough Course Ahead

Washington, Feb. 6 (AP)—The administration-backed bill to boost postal rates nearly a quarter billion dollars a year was over its first big hurdle today—but the toughest part of the course lay ahead. The House Post Office Committee yesterday voted out increases affecting the users of virtually every class of mail except parcel post, which previously was upped by separate action. The bill would raise the cost of mailing out-of-town letters from three to four cents to bring in 159 million dollars more revenue a year. It also would add another penny to the cost of the present six-cent air mail stamp, for a $15,600,000 annual revenue gain.

'Orphan' Finds He's Worth $6,800,000

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—An 11-year-old boy who since infancy had regarded himself as an orphan today had these staggering new facts to consider:

1. He has just inherited $6,800,000, less taxes.

2. His mother was the victim of one of the most sensational slayings in New York history.

3. His father is not dead, but imprisoned for the crime.

The boy on whom these overwhelming discoveries fell yesterday is William Anthony Burton. Before his name was legally changed in 1947 he was Wayne William Lonergan.

His father is Wayne Lonergan, a cafe society figure who was convicted of killing his wife in their swanky Beekman Hill apartment in 1943. Mrs. Lonergan, a wealthy socialite who was then only 22 years old, was bludgeoned and strangled.

Lonergan subsequently confessed the crime and was convicted of second degree murder. He will not be eligible for parole until 1967.

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—John Hvasta came back to his mother's arms today and said it was "with God's help" that he escaped from a Czech prison and eluded Red police for many months. The 26-year-old navy veteran from Hillside, N. J., home for the first time in more than five years, embraced his mother at Idlewild Airport and cried: "Thank God, thank God, thank God." Washington, Feb. 6 (AP)—A senator investigating high coffee prices said today he wants more testimony from a witness who was retired as a bank president after saying Latin Americans were "apt pupils" in price raising. Bush said he was "sorry if Mr. Dewey was retired because of his testimony and I hope he returns for more." The bank said Dewey was retired because of age.

Three Robbers Choke Dog, Get $25,000 Loot

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—Three men strangled a watchdog last night before breaking into the home of a Brooklyn woman doctor and robbing her of $25,000 worth of bonds, jewelry and cash.

The victim was Dr. Louise M. Puglisi, 43, of (15 Harbor Lane) who lives in the exclusive Shore road section.

Dr. Puglisi was asleep with a three-year-old daughter, Louise, beside her, and an infant son in a crib nearby when she was awakened by the gun-carrying trio who had broken into the house through a kitchen window.

After threatening harm to Dr. Puglisi and her children if she made an outcry, the men brought a maid from her upstairs bedroom and bound and gagged her. Then they forced Dr. Puglisi to open a small bedroom safe. She said they took $500 in cash, jewelry worth $10,000 and $15,000 in non-negotiable U. S. Bonds.

Ike Cautions . . .

but that the GOP has "a singleness of purpose."

No GOP Split

"Let me make one thing clear," he said, "there is not now nor will there be, any split in the Republican party."

The Republicans who polished off chicken from $1.50 lunch boxes they held in their laps heard speaker after speaker lash the Democratic opposition with stronger words than the President used.

Vice President Nixon said that failure to carry out the President's program would result in swing by the nation to the "far left."

He said that if a Republican Congress is not elected in November "one of the major reasons will be that the Republicans themselves are divided."

And in international affairs, he continued, Eisenhower is "the best known salesman" to lead the free world.

Keep Ball Rolling

Rep. Halleck, House Republican leader, and Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, kept the Republican ball rolling with speeches at a party breakfast today.

Halleck said in a prepared address that no party 'ever took office under an inherited mess of such magnitude" as the Truman Administration left behind.

"It is natural—and I hope understandable—that we would have aches and pains during the first year of our labors," he said. "You might say, perhaps, that we have suffered a little from green apples from time to time."

Knowland told the box supper crowd that the Chinese Communists should not be admitted to the United Nations nor recognized by this country.

Hoover Gets Ovation

"We are not going to consent to a Far Eastern Munich or to the admission of Communist China to the United Nations," he declared.

Next to Eisenhower, former President Hoover got the biggest ovation of the night.

Hoover told the applauding Republicans that they can enter this year's campaign with "complete confidence."

"A wise and courageous President has created for the Republican Party a great and constructive program that has restored faith and hope to the American people," Hoover declared.

"But, it was not a definite figure, just an estimate," Turck said. "It could be more.

"I asked them how this plan would affect our future taxes, and they told me they could not tell, but they said taxes would go up," Turck concluded.

Few Communists Then

"When the Republicans took over the government on Jan. 20, 1953," he said, "if there were any Communists in the government service they were very, very few indeed."

Truman accused Republican campaigners in 1952 of lying about the Communist menace. And when they took office, he said they "lacked the courage," to admit it.

"We can be against communism without being dishonest about it," Truman said, "without slinging mud and smearing everyone with whom we disagree."

Questions Statement

Regarding Eisenhower's statement, at a press conference and in his State of the Union message, that 2,200 government employes had been gotten rid of as security risks, Truman had this to say:

"It seems to me that the presidential press conference and the State of the Union message ought not to be used for such deceptive practices as this.

"Who is included in the 2,200? The administration refuses to say. How was the number arrived at? The administration refuses to say. But some of the facts are beginning to come out just the same.

"Few of them do any credit to the 'great crusade.'"

Hits Farm Attitude

Truman criticized the GOP administration for "almost callous indifference" to farm problems.

"The farmer, we are now told," Truman said, "was not promised 100 per cent of parity through support prices—he was promised only 100 per cent if he can get it in the market place, which is exactly the same as no promise at all."

"The cold war is still with us," Truman said, "the Soviet menace has not disappeared. The budget is not balanced, and won't be.

"At any rate, it is clear the problems of the country have not melted away before the Republican party."

Decision Reserved

been in error as to the report and that he had misunderstood the report of an investigation.

The petitioners ask cancellation of the award to the Pearl River firm on the basis that the water board acted on the alleged erroneous report of the engineer, who they claim was an agent of the board.

Beckerle-Brown, Inc., objected through counsel to rescinding the contract on the grounds they had started the project and have thousands of dollars worth of material on the job site or in transit.

Stresses City's Right

The firm further contends the city had a right to award the contract to them under the law.

Newberg & Sakossky, South Fallsburg law firm, representing S. & S. Construction Company, said the company would be willing to take over the materials on hand if awarded the job.

Teachers Deny

that what they asked would require a tax increase but said they felt the crisis in education today mandated such a raise.

Other communities throughout the nation are facing similar problems, they stated. It was pointed out that two small school systems in this area, Fallsburg and Ellenville, had already granted increases amounting to approximately $850 more per teacher than is being paid in the Kingston school system.

Sponsors Acting

omitted from the list of sponsors.

It is estimated that approximately $3,000 more than the insurance will be required to repair the damage to the roof of Angel House.

Separate From Church

Mrs. Wells said the Rt. Rev. Charles F. Boynton, DD, suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, wished to make it clear that the Convent of St. Ann "exists only on voluntary donations and gifts, receiving no financial aid from the Episcopal Church" and that "this particular order is a complete entity in itself and has no mother house to which it can appeal for funds."

ONE PARTY OR MANY

Americans studying the structure of our political set-up are sometimes critical of the "two-party system," in which various shades of opinion and political expression are not given sufficient chance for expression. There have been attempts to form third parties but these attempts have never enjoyed any real success.

There are extremely conservative Republicans, liberal Republicans and Republicans who describe their position as "middle' of the road," all lumped into one great party. The Democratic party is made up of about the same number of factions. Both parties depend on internal compromise to settle the differences that arise. In France or Italy there are at least a half dozen parties to express the political philosophies of our two parties. In addition there are other parties which represent the extremes of the right and the left.

The sorry results of the multi-party system may be seen in those countries which cling to the idea. France has suffered greatly because of the chaotic condition of its political structure since the end of World War II. At present Italy is faced with a cabinet crisis so serious that it may be solved by sacrificing budding democracy to extremists of either the right or the left.

Some of the criticism of the two party system may be justified. But a comparison with the multi-party system, as it has worked out in France and Italy, shows how important the two-party set-up is to our democracy. The many parties in the two unfortunate European countries have sapped the strength of every cooperative effort and have retarded the approach to political maturity.

The worker who finds his tasks going easy might be smart to examine whether he is going downhill.

Memo to Iron Curtain countries: the final figures are in for 1953, showing that the United States is without equal in the world for electric power. It produced forty-two per cent of the world's electricity, four times as much as that turned out by Russian plants. And with electric power goes power of a more material type.

NO ROOM FOR FEAR

The last several weeks have seen Americans confronted with the troubling question as to whether the period we are entering will be one of simple economic readjustment or one of orthodox recession which can lead to a depression. Strong cases have been made for both points of view and rising unemployment statistics have been used as arguments for both.

One thing should be clear, however. There must be no room in any of our thinking for hysteria or fear. The present level of prosperity in America was reached by boldness, by courage and perseverance in the face of discouragement and setback. For us to show less courage would be to deny our heritage and place ourselves in serious danger of the very thing we want to avoid.

No country in the world has been blessed so greatly as has ours. We have the natural resources, the broad acres of farmland, the sources of power, the technical know-how together with the scientific and engineering genius essential to use all these factors to best advantage.

There is still a great need for the good and vast powers and skills which we have. At home there are slums to be cleared, better roads to be built, new hospitals and clinics needed in which to raise the standards of health for our citizens. Abroad people look to our strength and power for help in the task of relieving misery, disease and ignorance.

Only fear can deter us. Courage, hope and a firm belief in our own abilities can see us through any crises. If we hang onto our visions and our faith we shall fulfil the bright promise that America is to the world.

And in a famous phrase, "If God be with us, who can be against us?"

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

FLEETWOOD AND ENGLISH

I do not work for the National Broadcasting Company and therefore ought not to tell them what to do. My broadcasts are carried by the American Broadcasting Company, which shows no particular excitement about my superior effort.

In spite of all this, I have a fan's privilege. My particular gripe is that N.B.C. has abolished "Music Through the Night," the program to which I listened most and which ran from 1 a. m. to 6 a. m., hours particularly valuable to me when one can think without intrusions except for the background of the best music while I work.

Its master of ceremonies was Harry Fleetwood. Fleetwood possesses two unusual virtues: 1. He speaks English, a rare gift these days; 2. He possesses a kindly, gentle voice and a cultivated manner.

Regarding his first virtue, the ability to speak English, I want to say that Fleetwood's accent is American, not British, but it is unaffected, un-Harvardized, un-New York English. It rings like the educated clergy at the beginning of this century before they became ashamed of what used to be called elocution. It was a delightful relief at about 2:30 a. m. because Fleetwood's voice was of the music.

Occasionally, we were interrupted by spaghetti and macaroni and such. The other night, I heard a jingle about such stuff in the vicinity of "Eine kleine Nachtmusic" and ridded myself of macaroni and spaghetti forevermore. On second thought, this sort of thing is better than government subsidies which corrupt, so I shall change my mind and eat the spaghetti and die of diabetes before my time.

Fleetwood is no more. I do not know whether he lost interest in the night or whether my friend, General David Sarnoff, moved him to day work. I do not ask, lest I lose faith in mankind. Many good things on radio, like Fleetwood's or Richard English's "Last Man Out," are never adequately sponsored and therefore are shifted about to make room for the more popular accelerators of the human mind.

The very best drama on the air is "Last Man Out," the story of Americans who had forsaken their country, its traditions, its beliefs, its hopes and aspirations and who, after great travail, have returned to their own people. I listen to "Last Man Out" as often as I can because it interests me more than the ineffable yapping and yipping that some of my family leave on when they forget to turn the radio off.

There must be thousands of people who enjoy the yip and the yap, the dissonance of modern Tin Pan Alley, particularly the current version of the Barber Shop Quartette, usually sung by unmatched female voices. In fact, recently a friend and I were in a betting mood to determine whether a certain famous vocalist (a perfect word, for he is not a singer) is a tenor or a baritone. We finally decided that the so-called voice is a broken falsetto of a high school vintage somehow retained in middle age. Yet, such a rarity is almost heroic in his popularity and advertising agencies and sponsors vie with each other to obtain 13 minutes and 50 seconds of his time, so that in the interval they might advertise their wares.

At any rate, some very fine programs suffer from the commercial policy of radio, which is so different from a newspaper in that on the radio the entertainment or educational item is directly sponsored by advertising rather than, as in the newspaper, the advertisement is run independently. The result is that advertisers, perhaps correctly, shun the controversial on the theory that everybody, more or less, uses soap and why involve such an article of commerce in dialectics? Why not clothe it with song or murder or the psycho-analytical justification for legalized plural marriages? It never occurs to these program designers that a controversy could arise if parents asked themselves if their children ought to listen to all this degrading stuff—particularly the large portfolio of murders.

This started as an obituary notice for my favorite program, "Music Through the Night," given by Fleetwood, who speaks English, wandered to "Last Man Out," a dramatization of excellent value and purpose, and landed on my constant protest against bad programs for children sponsored by amoral merchants. I have to summarize it because, like a radio program, it has drifted all over the place. But you will get the point, I am sure.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

ILLNESS OF INDIVIDUAL MAY AFFECT MANY

When an outstanding physician, after being professor of medicine at Harvard University for many years and for 27 years Chief of the Medical Service, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, has something helpful to say to his fellow physicians and the public generally, we naturally listen to his words of experience given to us in his book, "Doctors, People, and Government," an Atlantic Press Book published by Little, Brown and Company, Boston.

In the opening chapter, Dr. James Harvard Means, known to most physicians of America and Europe, speaks of the place of medicine in the social order.

"Medicine, broadly conceived, serves the imperative function of promoting, preserving, and restoring the health, both of the individual and the community. All its personnel, facilities, and organizations are but means to these ultimate or final objectives. It is one of the great systems of the social organism — compaarable to defense, welfare, conservation, transportation and communication."

The medical function may be broken down or divided in various ways — preventive medicine, curative medicine; relating either to the individual or to the community. The health officer looks after the health affairs of the community — making it safe for people to inhabit, whereas, the physician has the task of helping the individual to make his personal adjustment to his environment.

Dr. Means points out that as people we take it for granted that the government is considered responsible for the health of the community, whereas medical care of the individual is regarded as a function of the medical profession to be carrried out by private enterprise on a voluntary basis.

Now we can all see very clearly that the health of the community is of vital importance to every individual member of the community but many of us fail to see that illness of the individual is a concern of the community. We may fail to realize this until some epidemic strikes the community.

"When he is sick, the individual creates a social vacuum which affects others than his immediate family. Certain other individuals must spend some of their time caring for him. The cost of his illness must be paid for somehow. Illness of the individual, therefore, like fire, flood, or other destructive processes, is always an economic loss to the community."

Illness of the individual is not, therefore, a "family" affair.

Dr. Means reminds us that the great health campaigns of the twentieth century waged both by governmental and voluntary forces against tuberculosis, venereal disease, pneumonia and poliomyelitis and, more recently, against cancer, heart disease, and rheumatism are evidence of the growing realization that the illness of individuals may vitally affect all the people.

Our Changing World

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA) — The most serious threat that might arise in the current Berlin conference of Big Four Ministers would be a Russian attempt to woo France away from her American and British alliances and win her over to opposing German rearmament.

The success ot any such diplomatic maneuver on the part of the Russians is not considered likely. But it has been forseen as a possibility. If the Russians could put it over, it would be a disaster for the western world and a Communist world victory.

The bribes which Russia could offer France for support of these Moscow policies could be a promise of peace in Indo-China and guarantees of a neutralized and disarmed Germany. There is considerable political backing for both of these objectives inside France:

Should France vote with the Russians on these projects, it might well wreck the European Defense Community and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It would split France away from Germany, an alliance now regarded as the keystone of western European defense.

A split between France and Western Germany at this time might give the Russians a temporary advantage in delaying any counter moves for the unification of Germany.

Over the long haul, however, a French-German split could only lead to an eventual World War 3. The threat is regarded as fully that serious in Washington. In opposing it and trying to beat it down, the principal hope is in bringing France and Germany closer together.

He's Not Shy

Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson isn't as shy about using the private yacht Sequoia, which goes with the job, as President Eisenhower was about using the Williamsburg for short cruises in the Potomac and Chesapeake Bay.

President Eisenhower gave up his yacht, after trying it out, as an economy move. But since April 5, 1953, when the Sequoia came out of overhaul, it has left its Washington Navy Yard berth for cruises 51 times. The ship has become a sort of community pleasure craft for members of the cabinet, however. Other top government officials have used the Sequoia more than Secretary Anderson. The yacht carries a crew of 25 enlisted men and one officer.

Horrible Mistake

Three newspaper photographers showed up the other day at a reception which the Congressional Club gave for the wives of new members of Congress. What brought out the cameramen was an announcement from club headquarters saying that Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and Mrs. Joseph R. McCarthy, wife of the Wisconsin senator, would be in the receiving line. Neither one came and it turned out the whole thing was a horrible mistake.

The club's officers said they had intended to ask Mrs. Hobby and Mrs. McCarthy to stand in the receiving line after they arrived. Then they failed to notify the two ladies what was expected of them.

She's Too Tough

The Pentagon brass had a discussion the other day on whether or not to release to the press some new pictures of the WAC Corporal guided missile. Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson was in on the conference. His comment was:

"Now you realize, don't you, that the WAC Corporal is not a pin-up girl?"

"Demand Better Foliage"

National Federation of Republican Women had a Washington meeting of its upper echelon not long ago to lay plans for participation of this organization in this year's congressional elections.

A light moment in the program was provided by Mrs. Robert Ash, who spoke to the ladies about the importance of decoration, color schemes and flower arrangements at political meetings. Mrs. Ash is an instructor at the National Flower Show School. Among other things, she said:

"We've got to demand better foliage, and if you just put your foot down, I think we'll get it." She is "paralyzed," she told the ladies, when she goes into a flower shop asking for evergreens and they announce they have huckleberry and asparagus.

"They expect you to jump up and down with joy," she said.

Woman Dies in Blast

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—Two paint explosions set off by a fire wrecked a Manhattan garment district loft yesterday, killing a forewoman and briefly trapping firemen in a jammed elevator. The blaze was discovered in the sixth floor quarters of the Reliable Spraying Co., a button painting firm, at quitting time. The explosions came minutes later, killing Beatrice McDowell, 38, who had sought to put out the fire. Windows, doors and part of the walls were blown out. An elevator shaft door buckled, jamming a car in which firemen were attempting to reach the blaze.

Plans Discussed For Proposed New School Addition

New Paltz, Feb. 5—As a prelude to meetings this month in all parts of the school district, school board members and Jedd Reisner, architect, discussed present approved plans and costs of the proposed addition to the New Paltz Central High School with the Citizens' Advisory Committee Feb. 1.

Paul Kurtz, of the school board, described the months of study and planning spent by the architect and board members on the plans. Every portion of the proposed addition represents the most practical, low-cost means of satisfying the needs of the district, he said.

The total cost of the structure has been estimated at $1,649,800. A state ruling for the amount of state aid the district will receive is still under consideration, Kurtz explained. A safe estimate of $270,000 or 20 per cent of the cost of building construction, in state aid, would bring the cost to the district down to $1,379,800.

The board plans a bond issue amortised over a 30-year period at an estimated interest rate of 3 per cent. Cost to New Paltz taxpayers would increase the present tax rate by $17.65 per thousand, with varying amounts for other townships in the district, depending upon their property assessment rates.

All or part of the towns of New Paltz, Gardiner, Esopus, Lloyd, Plattekill, and Rosendale are included in this Central School District.

Will Mail Brochure

Mrs. John Jacobson, chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, said that a brochure containing building plans, a breakdown of costs and tax rate increases for each township would be mailed this month to every home in the district.

Principal Frank Bugar explained that the proposed addition was unusually economical when compared with other new buildings in the state. While the state range for new buildings is from $13 for elementary grades to $23 for high schools per square foot, the estimate for the proposed New Paltz construction is $16.26 for both types.

Bugar said that the addition would increase the number of instruction areas, now 15, to 41. This number does not include the proposed cafeteria, gymnasium, auditorium, locker rooms, offices and storage space.

The entire building would house from 1,000 to 1,100 students, which tallies with the estimate of need in 1960.

Will Provide 17 Rooms

The new addition will privide 17 elementary classrooms, including two kindergartens and one special class room, Mr. Bugar said. The elementary wing will be joined to the rest of the building only by a corridor in back of the present gym-auditorium from which another corridor leads back to the cafeteria. Thus, the small children will be entirely separate from the Junior-Senior High School.

Junior High School classrooms will occupy all of the main floor of the present building, and the second floor of that building will be converted into Senior High School classrooms. Basement rooms now in use for classroom, guidance office, lunch room, and shops will be used for audio-visual aids, photography and maintenance storage.

The two science rooms, library, study hall for Junior and Senior High Schools and the administrative offices will be located in the new section on the North side of the present auditorium-gym.

Reisner said that the present well-built high school building helped set the architectural pace for the new construction. The plan calls for an addition that will be modern, yet will conform with the lines and brick construction of the old building to present a harmonious whole.

The School Board is prepared to present plans and cost explanations in detail to interested organizations anywhere in the district. Arrangements for meetings may be made by calling Mrs. John Jacobson, New Paltz 8326.

Blind-made articles are noted for their excellence of quality and workmanship.

The New Paltz sale is under the direction of Mrs. Alvin Beatty who is serving as general chairman.

New Paltz, Feb. 5—Although no definite plans have been announced, the New Paltz Fire Department is planning another big benefit show for later in the year. Lee Keator, president, when contacted this week, said he was unable to give any definite information but intimated that big plans are already underway for the annual show.

Health Group Backs Ordinance on Dogs

New Paltz, Feb. 5—"Dogs have been creating disturbances on the Campus School grounds and in building for years," Mrs. Robert Clarkson, chairman of the Health and Saftey committee of the Parent Faculty Organization, said today.

With the increasing number of dogs (a recent dog census showed 664 dogs in the town and village of New Paltz) the situation has been getting worse, Mrs. Clarkson said.

The committee urges support of the proposed village ordinance that would prohibit owners of dogs from allowing them to roam on the school grounds during school hours.

This ordinance, proposed by the Parent Faculty Organization, will be considered at a public hearing of the Village Board Tuesday, Feb. 9, at 8 p. m., in municipal building.

The PFO has issued the following statement concerning the need for such an ordinance:

"Under existing regulations, a dog can be picked up only if he has no license or if it can be proved that he has attacked a person. This fact was pointed out by Village Attorney David Corwin at the Village Board meeting Jan. 25.

ONE PARTY OR MANY

Americans studying the structure of our political set-up are sometimes critical of the "two-party system," in which various shades of opinion and political expression are not given sufficient chance for expression. There have been attempts to form third parties but these attempts have never enjoyed any real success.

There are extremely conservative Republicans, liberal Republicans and Republicans who describe their position as "middle of the road," all lumped into one great party. The Democratic party is made up of about the same number of factions. Both parties depend on internal compromise to settle the differences that arise. In France or Italy there are at least a half dozen parties to express the political philosophies of our two parties. In addition there are other parties which represent the extremes of the right and the left.

The sorry results of the multi-party system may be seen in those countries which cling to the idea. France has suffered greatly because of the chaotic condition of its political structure since the end of World War II. At present Italy is faced with a cabinet crisis so serious that it may be solved by sacrificing budding democracy to extremists of either the right or the left.

Some of the criticism of the two party system may be justified. But a comparison with the multi-party system, as it has worked out in France and Italy, shows how important the two-party set-up is to our democracy. The many parties in the two unfortunate European countries have sapped the strength of every cooperative effort and have retarded the approach to political maturity.

The worker who finds his tasks going easy might be smart to examine whether he is going downhill.

Memo to Iron Curtain countries: the final figures are in for 1953, showing that the United States is without equal in the world for electric power. It produced forty-two per cent of the world's electricity, four times as much as that turned out by Russian plants. And with electric power goes power of a more material type.

NO ROOM FOR FEAR

The last several weeks have seen Americans confronted with the troubling question as to whether the period we are entering will be one of simple economic readjustment or one of orthodox recession which can lead to a depression. Strong cases have been made for both points of view and rising unemployment statistics have been used as arguments for both.

One thing should be clear, however. There must be no room in any of our thinking for hysteria or fear. The present level of prosperity in America was reached by boldness, by courage and perseverance in the face of discouragement and setback. For us to show less courage would be to deny our heritage and place ourselves in serious danger of the very thing we want to avoid.

No country in the world has been blessed so greatly as has ours. We have the natural resources, the broad acres of farmland, the sources of power, the technical know-how together with the scientific and engineering genius essential to use all these factors to best advantage.

There is still a great need for the good and vast powers and skills which we have. At home there are slums to be cleared, better roads to be built, new hospitals and clinics needed in which to raise the standards of health for our citizens. Abroad people look to our strength and power for help in the task of relieving misery, disease and ignorance.

Only fear can deter us. Courage, hope and a firm belief in our own abilities can see us through any crises. If we hang onto our visions and our faith we shall fulfil the bright promise that America is to the world.

And in a famous phrase, "If God be with us, who can be against us?"

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

FLEETWOOD AND ENGLISH

I do not work for the National Broadcasting Company and therefore ought not to tell them what to do. My broadcasts are carried by the American Broadcasting Company, which shows no particular excitement about my superior effort.

In spite of all this, I have a fan's privilege. My particular gripe is that N.B.C. has abolished "Music Through the Night," the program to which I listened most and which ran from 1 a. m. to 6 a. m., hours particularly valuable to me when one can think without intrusions except for the background of the best music while I work.

Its master of ceremonies was Harry Fleetwood. Fleetwood possesses two unusual virtues: 1. He speaks English, a rare gift these days; 2. He possesses a kindly, gentle voice and a cultivated manner.

Regarding his first virtue, the ability to speak English, I want to say that Fleetwood's accent is American, not British, but it is unaffected, un-Harvardized, un-New York English. It rings like the educated clergy at the beginning of this century before they became ashamed of what used to be called elocution. It was a delightful relief at about 2:30 a. m. because Fleetwood's voice was of the music.

Occasionally, we were interrupted by spaghetti and macaroni and such. The other night, I heard a jingle about such stuff in the vicinity of "Eine kleine Nachtmusic" and ridded myself of macaroni and spaghetti forevermore. On second thought, this sort of thing is better than government subsidies which corrupt, so I shall change my mind and eat the spagheti and die of diabetes before my time.

Fleetwood is no more. I do not know whether he lost interest in the night or whether my friend, General David Sarnoff, moved him to day work. I do not ask, lest I lose faith in mankind. Many good things on radio, like Fleetwood's or Richard English's "Last Man Out," are never adequately sponsored and therefore are shifted about to make room for the more popular accelerators of the human mind.

The very best drama on the air is "Last Man Out," the story of Americans who had forsaken their country, its traditions, its beliefs, its hopes and aspirations and who, after great travail, have returned to their own people. I listen to "Last Man Out" as often as I can because it interests me more than the ineffable yapping and yipping that some of my family leave on when they forget to turn the radio off.

There must be thousands of people who enjoy the yip and the yap, the dissonance of modern Tin Pan Alley, particularly the current version of the Barber Shop Quartette, usually sung by unmatched female voices. In fact, recently a friend and I were in a betting mood to determine whether a certain famous vocalist (a perfect word, for he is not a singer) is a tenor or a baritone. We finally decided that the so-called voice is a broken falsetto of a high school vintage somehow retained in middle age. Yet, such a rarity is almost heroic in his popularity and advertising agencies and sponsors vie with each other to obtain 13 minutes and 50 seconds of his time, so that in the interval they might advertise their wares.

At any rate, some very fine programs suffer from the commercial policy of radio, which is so different from a newspaper in that on the radio the entertainment or educational item is directly sponsored by advertising rather than, as in the newspaper, the advertisement is run independently. The result is that advertisers, perhaps correctly, shun the controversial on the theory that everybody, more or less, uses soap and why involve such an article of commerce in dialectics? Why not clothe it with song or murder or the psycho-analytical justification for legalized plural marriages? It never occurs to these program designers that a controversy could arise if parents asked themselves if their children ought to listen to all this degrading stuff—particularly the large portfolio of murders.

This started as an obituary notice for my favorite program, "Music Through the Night," given by Fleetwood, who speaks English, wandered to "Last Man Out," a dramatization of excellent value and purpose, and landed on my constant protest against bad programs for children sponsored by amoral merchants. I have to summarize it because, like a radio program, it has drifted all over the place. But you will get the point, I am sure.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

ILLNESS OF INDIVIDUAL MAY AFFECT MANY

When an outstanding physician, after being professor of medicine at Harvard University for many years and for 27 years Chief of the Medical Service, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, has something helpful to say to his fellow physicians and the public generally, we naturally listen to his words of experience given to us in his book, "Doctors, People, and Government," an Atlantic Press Book published by Little, Brown and Company, Boston.

In the opening chapter, Dr. James Harvard Means, known to most physicians of America and Europe, speaks of the place of medicine in the social order.

"Medicine, broadly conceived, serves the imperative function of promoting, preserving, and restoring the health, both of the individual and the community. All its personnel, facilities, and organizations are but means to these ultimate or final objectives. It is one of the great systems of the social organism — compaarable to defense, welfare, conservation, transportation and communication."

The medical function may be broken down or divided in various ways — preventive medicine, curative medicine; relating either to the individual or to the community. The health officer looks after the health affairs of the community — making it safe for people to inhabit, whereas, the physician has the task of helping the individual to make his personal adjustment to his environment.

Dr. Means points out that as people we take it for granted that the government is considered responsible for the health of the community, whereas medical care of the individual is regarded as a function of the medical profession to be carrried out by private enterprise on a voluntary basis.

Now we can all see very clearly that the health of the community is of vital importance to every individual member of the community but many of us fail to see that illness of the individual is a concern of the community. We may fail to realize this until some epidemic strikes the community.

"When he is sick, the individual creates a social vacuum which affects others than his immediate family. Certain other individuals must spend some of their time caring for him. The cost of his illness must be paid for somehow. Illness of the individual, therefore, like fire, flood, or other destructive processes, is always an economic loss to the community."

Illness of the individual is not, therefore, a "family" affair.

Dr. Means reminds us that the great health campaigns of the twentieth century waged both by governmental and voluntary forces against tuberculosis, venereal disease, pneumonia and poliomyelitis and, more recently, against cancer, heart disease, and rheumatism are evidence of the growing realization that the illness of individuals may vitally affect all the people.

Our Changing World

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA) — The most serious threat that might arise in the current Berlin conference of Big Four Ministers would be a Russian attempt to woo France away from her American and British alliances and win her over to opposing German rearmament.

The success of any such diplomatic maneuver on the part of the Russians is not considered likely. But it has been forseen as a possibility. If the Russians could put it over, it would be a disaster for the western world and a Communist world victory.

The bribes which Russia could offer France for support of these Moscow policies could be a promise of peace in Indo-China and guarantees of a neutralized and disarmed Germany. There is considerable political backing for both of these objectives inside France.

Should France vote with the Russians on these projects, it might well wreck the European Defense Community and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It would split France away from Germany, an alliance now regarded as the keystone of western European defense.

A split between France and Western Germany at this time might give the Russians a temporary advantage in delaying any counter moves for the unification of Germany.

Over the long haul, however, a French-German split could only lead to an eventual World War 3. The threat is regarded as fully that serious in Washington. In opposing it and trying to beat it down, the principal hope is in bringing France and Germany closer together.

He's Not Shy

Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson isn't as shy about using the private yacht Sequoia, which goes with the job, as President Eisenhower was about using the Williamsburg for short cruises in the Potomac and Chesapeake Bay.

President Eisenhower gave up his yacht, after trying it out, as an economy move. But since April 5, 1953, when the Sequoia came out of overhaul, it has left its Washington Navy Yard berth for cruises 51 times. The ship has become a sort of community pleasure craft for members of the cabinet, however. Other top government officials have used the Sequoia more than Secretary Anderson. The yacht carries a crew of 25 enlisted men and one officer.

Horrible Mistake

Three newspaper photographers showed up the other day at a reception which the Congressional Club gave for the wives of new members of Congress. What brought out the cameramen was an announcement from club headquarters saying that Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and Mrs. Joseph R. McCarthy, wife of the Wisconsin senator, would be in the receiving line. Neither one came and it turned out the whole thing was a horrible mistake.

The club's officers said they had intended to ask Mrs. Hobby and Mrs. McCarthy to stand in the receiving line after they arrived. Then they failed to notify the two ladies what was expected of them.

She's Too Tough

The Pentagon brass had a discussion the other day on whether or not to release to the press some new pictures of the WAC Corporal guided missile. Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson was in on the conference. His comment was:

"Now you realize, don't you, that the WAC Corporal is not a pin-up girl?"

"Demand Better Foliage"

National Federation of Republican Women had a Washington meeting of its upper echelon not long ago to lay plans for participation of this organization in this year's congressional elections.

A light moment in the program was provided by Mrs. Robert Ash, who spoke to the ladies about the importance of decoration, color schemes and flower arrangements at political meetings. Mrs. Ash is an instructor at the National Flower Show School. Among other things, she said:

"We've got to demand better foliage, and if you just put your foot down, I think we'll get it." She is "paralyzed," she told the ladies, when she goes into a flower shop asking for evergreens and they announce they have huckleberry and asparagus.

"They expect you to jump up and down with joy," she said.

Plans Discussed For Proposed New School Addition

New Paltz, Feb. 5—As a prelude to meetings this month in all parts of the school district, school board members and Jedd Reisner, architect, discussed present approved plans and costs of the proposed addition to the New Paltz Central High School with the Citizens' Advisory Committee Feb. 1.

Paul Kurtz, of the school board, described the months of study and planning spent by the architect and board members on the plans. Every portion of the proposed addition represents the most practical, low-cost means of satisfying the needs of the district, he said.

The total cost of the structure has been estimated at $1,649,800. A state ruling for the amount of state aid the district will receive is still under consideration, Kurtz explained. A safe estimate of $270,000 or 20 per cent of the cost of building construction, in state aid, would bring the cost to the district down to $1,379,800.

The board plans a bond issue amortised over a 30-year period at an estimated interest rate of 3 per cent. Cost to New Paltz taxpayers would increase the present tax rate by $17.65 per thousand, with varying amounts for other townships in the district, depending upon their property assessment rates.

All or part of the towns of New Paltz, Gardiner, Esopus, Lloyd, Plattekill, and Rosendale are included in this Central School District.

Will Mail Brochure

Mrs. John Jacobson, chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, said that a brochure containing building plans, a breakdown of costs and tax rate increases for each township would be mailed this month to every home in the district.

Principal Frank Bugar explained that the proposed addition was unusually economical when compared with other new buildings in the state. While the state range for new buildings is from $13 for elementary grades to $23 for high schools per square foot, the estimate for the proposed New Paltz construction is $16.26 for both types.

Bugar said that the addition would increase the number of instruction areas, now 15, to 41. This number does not include the proposed cafeteria, gymnasium, auditorium, locker rooms, offices and storage space.

The entire building would house from 1,000 to 1,100 students, which tallies with the estimate of need in 1960.

Will Provide 17 Rooms

The new addition will privide 17 elementary classrooms, including two kindergartens and one special class room, Mr. Bugar said. The elementary wing will be joined to the rest of the building only by a corridor in back of the present gym-auditorium from which another corridor leads back to the cafeteria. Thus, the small children will be entirely separate from the Junior-Senior High School.

Junior High School classrooms will occupy all of the main floor of the present building, and the second floor of that building will be converted into Senior High School classrooms. Basement rooms now in use for classroom, guidance office, lunch room, and shops will be used for audio-visual aids, photography and maintenance storage.

The two science rooms, library, study hall for Junior and Senior High Schools and the administrative offices will be located in the new section on the North side of the present auditorium-gym.

Reisner said that the present well-built high school building helped set the architectural pace for the new construction. The plan calls for an addition that will be modern, yet will conform with the lines and brick construction of the old building to present a harmonious whole.

The School Board is prepared to present plans and cost explanations in detail to interested organizations anywhere in the district. Arrangements for meetings may be made by calling Mrs. John Jacobson, New Paltz 8326.

Health Group Backs Ordinance on Dogs

New Paltz, Feb. 5—"Dogs have been creating disturbances on the Campus School grounds and in building for years," Mrs. Robert Clarkson, chairman of the Health and Saftey committee of the Parent Faculty Organization, said today.

With the increasing number of dogs (a recent dog census showed 664 dogs in the town and village of New Paltz) the situation has been getting worse, Mrs. Clarkson said.

The committee urges support of the proposed village ordinance that would prohibit owners of dogs from allowing them to roam on the school grounds during school hours.

This ordinance, proposed by the Parent Faculty Organization, will be considered at a public hearing of the Village Board Tuesday, Feb. 9, at 8 p. m., in municipal building.

The PFO has issued the following statement concerning the need for such an ordinance:

"Under existing regulations, a dog can be picked up only if he has no license or if it can be proved that he has attacked a person. This fact was pointed out by Village Attorney David Corwin at the Village Board meeting Jan. 25.

CONCERNING HANDSHAKING

A letter in today's mail tells me: "Since I have been in the business world, and indeed there are times in my social contacts, too, when the occasion arises for me to return a handshake. Here I face a problem: Is a young woman supposed to give a firm handclasp or does she give her hand gracefully? A man's firm handclasp denotes strength and warmth, but does this hold true for a woman, too? Another point that has caused me some bewilderment concerns the offering of a hand. Does a woman ever offer one, and, if so, when?"

Give your hand naturally and warmly and on no account proffer a limp rag. When she is hostess, a woman always offers her hand to her guests. Otherwise, the motion is a spontaneous one and she offers it whenever she feels inclined to do so—whether one is a woman or a man.

A Buffet Dinner

Dear Mrs. Post: I expect to give a buffet dinner soon. My intention is to set up card tables around the room, to which guests can take their food after they have helped themselves from the buffet table. I would like to know if the silverware should be put on the card tables or on the buffet table.

Answer: I think it would be better to put the silver on the buffet table next to each dish for which it is to be used. In this way guests will take only the implements they need.

When "Mrs. Mary" Is Unavoidable

Dear Mrs. Post: When writing to someone whom you know only as Mary Smith, and you know she is married, would it be better o address a letter to her as Mrs. M. Smith rather than make the mistake of addressing her as Mrs. Mary Smith?

Answer: "Mary" would be a much better name to choose than the initial "M" alone.

Should a lady offer her hand when greeting friends or being introduced? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," answers this question. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Chairmen Plan Benefit for Alberta Davis Memorial Fund

Committee heads met Wednesday to plan a benefit social for the Alberta Davis Memorial Fund, which will be held at the George Washington School, Wednesday, Feb. 24, at 7:45 p. m. This social, which is open to the public, is being sponsored by the Association for Childhood Education, Kingston Branch. Members who are heads of committees for the event are: (l-r) Miss Anna Whitbeck, School No. 2, miscellaneous committee; Mrs. Donovan Buehring, George Washington School, publicity chairman; Miss Mary Polhemus, George Washington School, president, local chapter; Mrs. Alma Dunn, George Washington School, general chairman of the benefit social; and Miss Dorothy Elston, MJM School, ticket chairman. Not present for the picture were Mrs. Alice Cross, refreshments chairman, and Mrs. Maude Bunting, tables chairman. (Freeman photo).

Planned Parenthood State Director Lauds County Committee

Mrs. Eleanor M. Gerry, director of the New York State League for Planned Parenthood, in a recent meeting with the local Ulster County Committee for Planned Parenthood, commended them highly for their work at the Maternal Health Center. "You are accomplishing as much with a smaller amount of money as many of the larger centers in the state are with more. Your clinic setup is fine. Keep up the good work," said Mrs. Gerry.

The Maternal Health Center operates mainly through volunteer workers, who give freely of their time to bring to the women of Ulster county, the benefits of the knowledge of child spacing, family planning, and marriage counselling. Two doctors serve as clinicians.

Mrs. Gerry reported on the awareness of foreign countries to the crying need for planned parenthood. India includes a family planning program in her five-year plan, and has allotted over a million dollars to it. Lady Rama Rau of India is the president of the International Planned Parenthood Federation. The health department of South Africa gives an annual grant of a thousand pounds; Singapore $10,000; Malaya municipal commissioners $15,000 annually toward this work. The London office of the International Federation is deluged with requests for information and aid in training clinicians.

The crown prince of the island of Tonga plans to train all of his 19 doctors, realizing that overpopulation is the greatest problem. "Family planning ought to be a part of every public health program. Some day our government will copy other nations in this respect," concluded Mrs. Gerry.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

With all the agitation about the Rondout Creek Bridge entrance being not adequate for present heavy traffic, it is interesting to look back to The Kingston Freeman and Journal of Friday, Dec. 9, 1921, and read what was copied from an editorial of the New York Times on the new bridge, which reads in part: "By far the most important single work accomplished in many years by the New York Highway Commission is the completion of the suspension bridge over Rondout Creek, between Kingston and the town of Esopus costing $700,000. It is no mean bridge. With the exception of the mighty structures spanning the East river, the new Rondout Bridge is not only the most costly that has been erected in the state for a long time, but it enjoys the unique distinction of being the only large bridge ever constructed by the State Highway Commission as part of its comprehensive road system."

The editorial in the New York Times continues: "For more than half a century agitation for the bridge has been going on in Kingston and the adjacent parts of Ulster county. . . . It provides virtually the last remaining link in the complete highway system for motor transportation on the west bank of the Hudson from New York to Albany, and upper parts of the state." And now history repeats itself for as they said then about the little Skillypot which was replaced by the then magnificent bridge, they found the little ferry boat "antiquated." So as "time marches on" the same words that Gov. Miller of New York state, said then at the formal opening of the bridge can now be said again: "This is what the State of New York is trying to do toward solving the many perplexing transportation problems presented in recent years through the increasing popularity of the automobile and the urgent necessity of good roads for efficient and economical use." No matter what is decided upon, it looks like there will be changes around near or of the Rondout Creek Bridge itself in the very near future.

The little Skillypot, before it took care of the 9W traffic for some 100 years, but now with the automobile and the big trailer trucks moving so rapidly ahead in vast transportation on wheels that the Rondout Creek Bridge was at its best only 32 years. Some facts may interest the present taxpayers. A total of $700,000 was paid by the state. Although it seems a much higher incline when looking from Abeel street according to records, the grade is five per cent from the Abeel street approach to the center of the bridge, and only one fifth of one per cent from the center of the bridge to the Esopus approach. The tower on the Esopus side is 20 feet higher than on the Rondout side because the concrete pier is that much higher, which was necessary on account of the grade.

It is interesting to note the width of the roadway of the bridge which is 22 feet wide and constructed of concrete. The sidewalks which many more people used before cars were so popular are seven feet and six inches wide but because of the trusses of the bridge they have an actual width of four feet and four inches wide. It will now be interesting to see what changes take place. Of course, at that time, the present day heavy traffic including the truck traffic, was unforeseen.

Good Taste Today

CONCERNING HANDSHAKING

A letter in today's mail tells me: "Since I have been in the business world, and indeed there are times in my social contacts, too, when the occasion arises for me to return a handshake. Here I face a problem: Is a young woman supposed to give a firm handclasp or does she give her hand gracefully? A man's firm handclasp denotes strength and warmth, but does this hold true for a woman, too? Another point that has caused me some bewilderment concerns the offering of a hand. Does a woman ever offer one, and, if so, when?"

Give your hand naturally and warmly and on no account proffer a limp rag. When she is hostess, a woman always offers her hand to her guests. Otherwise, the motion is a spontaneous one and she offers it whenever she feels inclined to do so—whether one is a woman or a man.

Trio Entertains Assembly

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Wallace and their talented assistant, Miss Laura Hamilton, known professionally as the Wallace Chime Trio, thrilled the entire student body in a two-assembly appearance Thursday morning.

Featuring triple octave chimes, carillon chimes, vibra-harp, marimba, Swiss musical hand bells, Swedish Viking bells, accordion and piano, both alone and in combinations, the trio presented a program of classics, old familiar airs and popular music well suited to the tastes of their teen-age audience.

Before performing on the novel instruments, which in most instances were all but unknown to the audience, Mr. Wallace gave a short history and explanation of the instrument. The students in their turn enthusiastically expressed their appreciation of the musical versatility and professionaly skill displayed by the performers.

Many Helped Senior Play

While everyone has been busy all week praising the performance of cast who presented Life With Father last week, few realize that the production would have been impossible without the assistance and cooperation of a large group of seniors who worked diligently backstage.

Partlan assisted by Noel and Joseph Bonacci and Agnes Geary.

Frances Ambrose, Joan Glass and Helen Bellswinger served as prompters.

The business end of the production was in charge of Mrs. Wilson Norwood. Student assistants included Gail Dugan, Teddy Vendetti, Mary Ellen Adams, Caro Tegart, Maija Avenine, Max Wenderlick, William Hirons, Leland DeWitt, Robert Ostrander, Ronald Marks and Robert Coutant.

Touched-Up Doorsill Can Be Kept Clean

All traffic into or out of a room must, of necessity, pass across the doorsills. If the doorway is much used, the sills and adjacent floor area soon become worn and unsightly. When the grain of the wood is directly exposed, dirt finds lodgment in it and even the hardest scrubbing fails to clean the surface thoroughly.

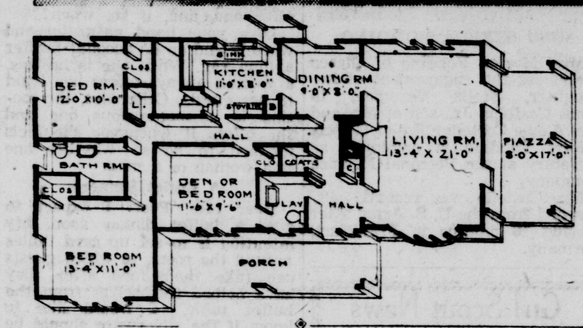

When the old coating wears thin, a touch-up of the same type of material used on the rest of the floor's surface — shellac, varnish, paint, or penetrating stain— will save you much unnecessary work. A smoothly finished surface can be kept spotlessly clean with very little effort.

American Beauty French

The carmine-petaled American Beauty rose, once one of the best-known varieties, has now been replaced in popularity by newer varieties. The American Beauty was introduced into America in 1886, from France where it originated in 1875.

The 'BEDDAM'

Can Be Built on Sloping Site

Rooms	Six
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Six
Cubage:
House	23,800 ft.
Dimensions	52' x 30'

Presenting a rambling, informal appearance, "The Beddam," offered today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, is especially well suited for construction on a sloping site. Inside, the house is thoroughly modern in every respect and carefully planned for comfortable living and easy maintenance.

With overall measurements of 52-30 feet, "The Beddam" has a cubage of 23,000 feet. These figures do not include a garage. However, if you desire to have either an attached or detached garage constructed you can easily make such arrangements with your contractor. Be sure to obtain a sufficiently large lot of land to allow for construction of the garage even though you do not plan to have it built at the same time as the house.

Landscaping and a built-in flower garden, under the bay window in the living room, will add much extra charm to the exterior appearance of "The Beddam." While shingles are used for the exterior finish of the house selected as an illustration you can use any other finish or combination of finishes with equally successful and charming results.

Two regular bedrooms and a room which can be used as a den, guest room or bedroom provide sufficient sleeping space for the average modern family. All of these rooms are well ventilated and contain good closet space. The fact that the lavatory opens off the optional room makes that room especially well adapted for use as a guest room.

Compact and well arranged, the kitchen is strictly a work center. But, having no breakfast nook will cause no extra work for the housewife who lives in "The Beddam" because the dining room adjoins the kitchen. Thus, serving all family meals in this pleasant room presents no problem whatsoever.

Unusually spacious, the living room is equally as handsome as it is large. The five windowed bay in the front wall shares decorative honors with the three sectioned picture window in the back wall and the fireplace in the left wall. For additional decorative interest as well as for more light you can have a French door installed in the doorway leading to the side piazza.

This piazza can be closed in completely and used all the year 'round or can be screened in or left open — whatever use best suits your needs.

Since no space is allotted in the house proper for a laundry, your laundry equipment should be placed in the basement under either the kitchen or bathroom. The heating plant should be installed under the living room. Be sure to provide bulkheads for safe, convenient access to the yard from the basement.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, 89 Elmore avenue, Providence 6, Rhode Island and enclose a self addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Good Paint Formula

Good house paint should have 70 per cent white lead content, 15 per cent titanium pigment and 15 per cent zinc pigment to insure a hard, bright surface.

Keep Heat Out

Superheated air from the roof, often reaching 150 degrees, can be kept out of the living quarters by placing full-thick batts or blankets of fireproof mineral wool between roof rafters or floor joists.

Multi-Bathroom Trend

Twenty-three per cent of all the new houses started during the first three months of this year had more than one bathroom.

New Faculty Members

Several changes in faculty personnel occurred in the high school at the beginning of the new term this week. Miss Mauree Heahue, a replacement for Thomas Schikleman who resigned to accept a position with General Motors in Rochester, is teaching ninth year social studies. Miss Heahue, a graduate of both Fordham and Columbia Universities, taught at Park Academy, New York, before coming to Kingston.

Miss Cynthia Lovely has accepted a position as an assistant librarian succeeding Mrs. Dolcy who resigned. A graduate of Colby College, Miss Lovely taught at the Knox School, Cooperstown.

Two new secretaries also assumed their positions at the high school this week. They are Miss Ruth Roberts who is employed in the Guidance Office, replacing Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Most who has taken a position in the Board of Education Office.

Farmers Earn Award

Working both as individuals and in teams, students at Kingston High School, taking the agricultural course under Raphael Klein, won a number of honors, in the Future Farmers of America and 4-H contests sponsored by horticulturalists at the Eastern New York Horticultural show held in January.

A team composed of Silas Countryman, Richard Isaacson and Leonard Silverstein captured first place in the FFA apple grading and identification contest earning 208 points. Individual ratings in this contest were Richard Isaacson, second place 77½ points; Silas Countryman, fifth place, 68 points and Leonard Silverstein, seventh place, 62½ points.

In the 4-H apple variety identification and judging contest, Kingston High School teams placed first and fourth. The first place group was composed of Thomas Coffey, Joe Cornelske, Peter Fisher, Vincent Hayner and Stanton Warren. Members of the fourth place team included Robert Maggiore, James Nolan, Robert E. Post, Charles Tubby and Arthur Wallevik.

Those earning blue ribbons in this contest were Robert Maggiore, Peter Fisher, Vincent Hayner and Thomas Coffey. Red ribbon winners included James Nolan, Stanton Warren, Arthur Wallevik and Charles Tubby.

Kingston High 4-H groups also placed second and third in the disease and insect identification contest. Members of the second place team which accumulated 218 points were Joseph Cornelske, Peter Fisher, David Garfman, Vincent Hayner and Stanton Warren. Third place team, 214 points, included James Nolan, Robert Maggiore, Donald Prast, Charles Tubby and Arthur Wallevick.

In this contest blue ribbons were awarded to Vincent Hayner, Robert Maggiore, Charles Tubby, and Stanton Warren while red ribbons went to Peter Fisher, Robert Post and Joseph Cornelske.

Another Kingston team composed of Silas Countryman, Richard Isaacson and Leonard Silverstein won third place in the Future Farmers' disease and insect identification contest. In this contest Richard Isaacson earned fifth place in the individual contest.

Legion Oratorical Contest

Tom Conway will be KHS's representative at the American Legion District Oratorical Contest. As county winner, Conway will participate in the district elimination to be held Feb. 13 at the Schoharie Central School. He will give a 10 to 12 minute prepared speech on the Constitution and a 4 to 6 minute unprepared speech on one topic selected from a list.

The district winner goes on to the zone contest. That winner continues to the state finals and the state winner is eligible for national competition.

Keglers Start Second Round

The KHS keglers are now starting their second round of intramural bowling. The boys bowl Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at the Central Recreation Alleys.

Bob Shelightner has the distinction of bowling the highest score so far in the contest with a 210. He is serving as captain of Team 4. Other captains include Team 1, Elvin Rose; Team 2, Al Wood; Team 3, Jerry Houghtaling; Team 5, Henry Jacobs and Team 6, Robert Morris.

FFA Cagers Win

Moe Turck and Jim Nolan paced the Kingston High School Future Farmers of America to victory over New Paltz FFA in a game played at the latter's court Monday night. The final score was Kingston 52, New Paltz 41. The scoring for Kingston was as follows: Moe Turck, 14; Jim Nolan, 12; Cy Countryman, 10; Ray Ritter, 8; Don Van Kleek, 6; Stan Warren, 2; Dick Isaacson, 0. High scorer for New Paltz FFA was Wilson with 12 points.

Touched-Up Doorsill Can Be Kept Clean

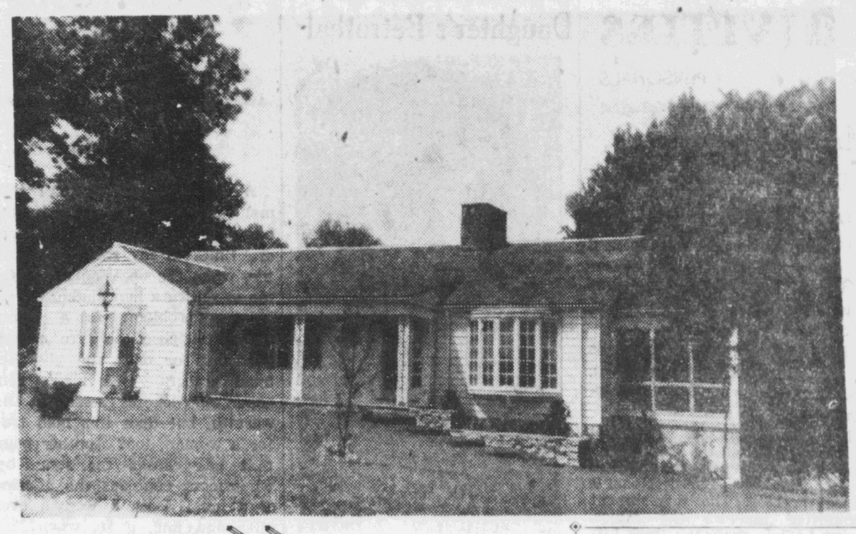

All traffic into or out of a room must, of necessity, pass across the doorsills. If the doorway is much used, the sills and adjacent floor area soon become worn and unsightly. When the grain of the wood is directly exposed, dirt finds lodgment in it and even the hardest scrubbing fails to clean the surface thoroughly.

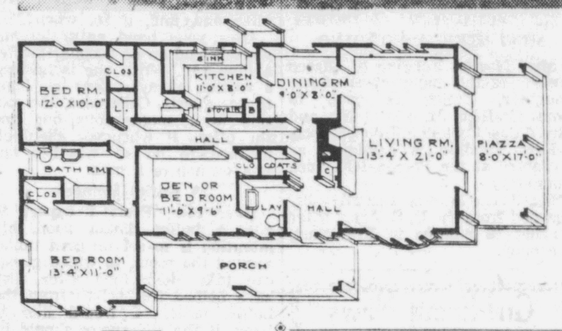

When the old coating wears thin, a touch-up of the same type of material used on the rest of the floor's surface — shellac, varnish, paint, or penetrating stain—will save you much unnecessary work. A smoothly finished surface can be kept spotlessly clean with very little effort.

American Beauty French

The carmine-petaled American Beauty rose, once one of the best-known varieties, has now been replaced in popularity by newer varieties. The American Beauty was introduced into America in 1886, from France where it originated in 1875.

The 'BEDDAM'

Can Be Built on Sloping Site

Rooms	Six
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Six
Cubage:
House	23,800 ft.
Dimensions	52' x 30'

Presenting a rambling, informal appearance, "The Beddam," offered today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, is especially well suited for construction on a sloping site. Inside, the house is thoroughly modern in every respect and carefully planned for comfortable living and easy maintenance.

With overall measurements of 52-30 feet, "The Beddam" has a cubage of 23,000 feet. These figures do not include a garage. However, if you desire to have either an attached or detached garage constructed you can easily make such arrangements with your contractor. Be sure to obtain a sufficiently large lot of land to allow for construction of the garage even though you do not plan to have it built at the same time as the house.

Landscaping and a built-in flower garden, under the bay window in the living room, will add much extra charm to the exterior appearance of "The Beddam." While shingles are used for the exterior finish of the house selected as an illustration you can use any other finish or combination of finishes with equally successful and charming results.

Two regular bedrooms and a room which can be used as a den, guest room or bedroom provide sufficient sleeping space for the average modern family. All of these rooms are well ventilated and contain good closet space. The fact that the lavatory opens off the optional room makes that room especially well adapted for use as a guest room.

Compact and well arranged, the kitchen is strictly a work center. But, having no breakfast nook will cause no extra work for the housewife who lives in "The Beddam" because the dining room adjoins the kitchen. Thus, serving all family meals in this pleasant room presents no problem whatsoever.

Unusually spacious, the living room is equally as handsome as it is large. The five windowed bay in the front wall shares decorative honors with the three sectioned picture window in the back wall and the fireplace in the left wall. For additional decorative interest as well as for more light you can have a French door installed in the doorway leading to the side piazza.

This piazza can be closed in completely and used all the year 'round or can be screened in or left open — whatever use best suits your needs.

Since no space is allotted in the house proper for a laundry, your laundry equipment should be placed in the basement under either the kitchen or bathroom. The heating plant should be installed under the living room. Be sure to provide bulkheads for safe, convenient access to the yard from the basement.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, 89 Elmore avenue, Providence 6, Rhode Island and enclose a self addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Good Paint Formula

Good house paint should have 70 per cent white lead content, 15 per cent titanium pigment and 15 per cent zinc pigment to insure a hard, bright surface.

Keep Heat Out

Superheated air from the roof, often reaching 150 degrees, can be kept out of the living quarters by placing full-thick batts or blankets of fireproof mineral wool between roof rafters or floor joists.

Multi-Bathroom Trend

Twenty-three per cent of all the new houses started during the first three months of this year had more than one bathroom.

High School Five Rallies to Defeat Ellenville High, 71-52

54 Teams Vie for $1323 Jackpot In KBA's 17th Annual Tourney Opening Monday at Ferraro's

Fifty-four five-man squads will be shooting for a jackpot of $1323.75 in the 17th annual Kingston Bowling Association tenpin championships that get under way Monday, Feb. 8, at 7 p. m. at Ferraro's Bowlodrome.

There is no bowling scheduled Tuesday.

A single squad is slated Wednesday at 7 p. m. and the five-man shooting ends with two squads on Thursday, Feb. 11, at 7 and 9 p. m.

Sinbles and doubles shooting opens Saturday, Feb. 13, at 7:30 p. m., also at the Bowlodrome.

The Sunday, Feb. 14, competition opens at 3 p. m., with another squad at 6 p. m. and the final at 8 o'clock.

Raible Honored

John Raible, one of the oldest active bowlers in Kingston, will throw the first ball officially opening the tournament on Monday.

Raible, 78, began his bowling career in 1912 and has been active in the sport without interruption since then. He was a member of the old City League for several years and recently has been affiliated with the CYO League and YMCA Mercantile. He is a member of the Fuller Shirt squad.

First place in the team event carries a guaranteed prize of $150.00, the highest in KBA history. Second place is worth $100.00.

Guaranteed prizes for firsts in other events are: Doubles, $50.00; singles, $25.00. A total of 86 all-events entries have been registered. First place in that division is worth $20.00.

President William R. Murray, Secretary Irwin J. Thomas and Tournament Manager Emmanuel Colao are in charge of the annual tournament.

Poughkeepsie	9	1
Newburgh	7	2
Middletown	4	6
Monticello	4	6
Port Jervis	3	6
Fallsburg	3	7
Liberty	3	7
Ellenville	1	8

The DUSO League basketball picture remained unchanged last night and the only note of interest on Tuesday's slate is the NFA trip to Monticello.

There, on the Sullivan county boards, the Goldbacks might possibly relinquish their claim to the DUSO championship after two straight years of conference domination.

Kingston High overcame a sluggish start to roll over Ellenville, 71-52, at the southern Ulster court. Earlier in the day, Poughkeepsie's powerful Blues crushed Fallsburg Central, 71-32, at Sam Kalloch's favorite bailiwick.

In other games, Liberty High surprised Middletown, 58-50, by leading all the way and the improving Port Jervis quintet toppled Monticello, 62-50.

A red hot Eddie Knight sparked Ellenville to a 16-10 margin over Kingston in the first period and it wasn't until late in the first half that the Maroons could move ahead, 30-27, at the buzzer.

For the Kiasmen it was their 10th straight DUSO victory and 11 in a row for the season, the outside win coming against Catskill.

Third Period Spree

Kingston broke the game apart with a 23-9 romp in the third period when Dick Bezemer collected twelve of his 24 points and Ray Lawrence got six. Skip Brodhead, who hit consistently through the first three periods, finished with 20 points and Lawrence totalled 13 for his best night of the season. Knight tailed off in the second half for the Ellies but managed 21 points.

Fallsburg was handicapped by the absence of Dave Kwartler and an early-game injury to Irv Kasofsky but the presence of either or both for full time duty would hardly have affected the result of Poughkeepsie. The Blues held the Comets scoreless from the field in the first quarter to run up a 22-4 lead.

Don Dahowski led Poughkeepsie with 23 points.

Morris Miller paced Liberty with 20 points and Irv Mullens hit 17 against Middletown. Bill Williams scored 19 for the Middies.

Dick Tenczek's 16 points sparked the Port Jervis triumph over Monticello. Mendy Ringle, Monticello's All-DUSO candidate, and Irv Trachtenburg scored 17 apiece for the mountaineers.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

A research assistant professor of meteorology at NYU, Prof. Jerome Spar, advised Bill Wallace recently not to throw the skis in the fireplace and indicated things might get better before they get worse. Further conclusions by Prof. Spar:

1. Yes, it has been getting warmer in recent winters, just a bit warmer.

2. It could get colder any time.

3. Old fashioned winters grandfather knew were not much better in terms of snow than the current ones.

Like many meteorologists, Spar is loath to make flat predictions. "There is nothing definite about the weather," he says, "except that it changes."

It isn't true winters were much more severe a generation ago. For example, the mean January temperatures for New York city between 1921 and 1926 came to 34.1 degrees compared to 35.6 for 1946-54.

There were plenty of poor skiing years long ago, too. In 1900-01 only 9.2 inches of snow fell all winter in New York city. Best year was 1947-48, a 61.5 total.

Just be patient, Prof. Spar advises, it might snow any time.

SCHUSS NOTES:

Skiing was good last Sunday at Belleayre, says Rosemary Murphy. —No New Yorkers on slopes because "no skiing" report kept them in the city—good thing (but not for operators) because local people had a chance. Also snow would have disappeared if hordes of city-folk had been on the slopes. The popular thing to do, they tell us, is to stop off at Phoenicia Hotel for hot butter rum, then a huge steer at Brattains. Rosemary is plugging for an artificial ice rink—thinks it would do a marvelous business in the city. The department is inclined to ask: Are there really enough persons interested in skating to support a modern rink on a October-April basis? If so, why doesn't somebody start a petition and interest some private investor. U. S. Eastern Amateur Ski Associaiton has just compiled a list of over 500 ski films and where they can be obtained. There is no other place in the world where this information can be obtained. Address is USEASA, Executive Office, 30 Huntington avenue, Bostoy, Mass.

DRAPER'S EDITORIAL:

"Ski New York" took a pleasant jibe at Art Draper of Belleayre for his failure to fill a space allotted for an editorial. Arthur's ghost said: "All day long it's selling tow tickets, renting equipment, making arrangements for instructions, answering questions, assisting in securing lodgings. Night falls—Art is able to steal a little time for some shut eye. And he has earned it! The sweet music of ringing cash registers and eager skiers continued in his dreams. So, we won't censure Art. He's a busy man with his snow business." No formal date has been set for opening of the Belleayre Lodge, but the heating apparatus has been installed and the swank layout should be opened by the end of February. Draper, the popular superintendent at Belleayre, points out that operators have learned from experience that skiing season definitely does not end in February. The ringing of the cash register continues throughout the entire month of March. Ever since Ernie Johnson, state meteorologist of the Albany Weather Bureau, startled folks with the fact that there are sections in New York state which have the highest average snowfall east of the Rocky Mountains, each ski center operator is trying to make certain that his area gets its share of the "dough in the snow."

A QUESTION ANSWERED:

A week ago we commented on the absence of a ski team and faculty staff advisor at Kingston High. Today we have a reasonable explanation. The ski team, like some other items, became a casualty of the stepped-up academic system "the stay after school" regime instituted at the Broadway school about a year ago.

In order to "keep everything equal," the proponents of the plan, designed to assist backward students, decided to abolish all preferential treatment. Before the plan was started, qualified KHS ski students and members of the varsity took off every Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for ski resorts to receive instructions and practice. And they received physed credits skiing sessions which were supervised by Miss Pat Nalton.

When the Friday time was rescinded, interest among the ski students nosedived. There have been a few Saturday excursions to the mountains on the students' own time this year but the enthusiasm isn't there. Miss Jane La Motte of the Faculty has supervised these trips. The academic setup may be changed somewhat by next year and a ski varsity is a possibility.

Horse Beats Car

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—A stray horse caused several hundred dollars damage when it ran into the side of a moving automobile. The horse was unhurt when his owner reclaimed him at the city pound.

Will Throw First Ball for KBA

John Raible, above, 78, one of the oldest active bowlers in the city, will roll the first ball officially launching the 17th annual KBA tournament Monday at the Bowlodrome. He has been bowling since 1912.

Growing Biddy Basketball Holds Its National Tourney At Peoria on March 25-27

Teams from 11 states, Canada and Puerto Rico are expected to compete in Third National Biddy basketball tournament at Peoria, Ill., March 25-27.

This is basketball for boys from 9 to 12 and girls from 9 to 13.

The basket, instead of being 10 feet from the floor, is 8½. The court, instead of being 90 by 50 feet, is 60 by 40. The ball is smaller, the foul line 12 feet from the backboard.

Biddy Basketball had its start 10 years ago. There was the tedious process of lowering the baskets, the use of volley, soccer, rubber balls, etc. There were many hours of shooting from a 15, 13, 10, and finally a 12-foot foul line. In 1950, when all changes were incorporated, Biddy Basketball was developed.

Tremendous Growth

Biddy Basketball has grown tremendously. It is now played in 44 states and Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Canada, Panama, Nova Scotia, Venezuela, Chile, Holland, Belgium and Germany.

Last year, the Norristown, Pa., Young Men's Christian Association All-Star team was defeated by Peoria for the championship, 57-54.

Ralph Cottman, All-America selection after the tournament, holds the scoring record of 56 points for a game. Ralph, now 12, was then 11 and playing for the Hawks, whom he captains, against the Colts in a league game on the Norristown YMCA floor. He stands 4 feet 8, weighs 92 pounds.

Biddy Basketball can definitely be an effective part of the grade school program.

Selvy-Gola Duel Heads Tonight's Cage Schedule

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—Sixteen of the nation's top 20 college basketball teams—including the three remaining unbeaten major quintets—hit the boards tonight in the sport's biggest night of the winter.

Top ranking Kentucky goes after its 16th straight against Georgia at Owensburg, Ky., in a match which Kentucky coach Adolph Rupp calls "as ridiculous as kissing your own sister." The Wildcats scorched Georgia 106-55 Thursday night.

Fourth ranking Western Kentucky seeks its 22nd in a row against Eastern Kentucky, already twice a victim of the Hilltoppers this season.

Duquesne, No. 2, takes on the talent laden Quantico Marines in a game billed as an exhibition. This means the Dukes' 18-game all winning streak won't be in jeopardy, although a loss might dim its lustre.

Selvy-Gola Duel

From the standpoint of individual talent the game of the night should be in Philadelphia where Frank Selvy of Furman meets Tom Gola of LaSalle for first time. Earlier this week Selvy broke the all-time major college three year scoring record of 1,888 points and now has 1,946. Gola is the only member of last year's All America team still active in college ball. Furman has won nine straight after a poor start but is the underdog against the ninth-ranking Explorers.

Four of the top 20 teams play each other with top billing going to the George Washington-Duke engagement at Durham, N. C. Duke was No. 8 in the latest Associated Press poll while the Generals, No. 11, were only a vote short of the top 10. Bradley, No. 18, plays Wichita, No. 14.

Indiana's NCAA champions return to Big Ten action against Michigan State. The once-beaten Hoosiers currently rank third behind Kentucky and Duquesne.

Holy Cross got enough action last night in beating St. John's of Brooklyn 78-58 in what was described as the roughest and most disorderly game ever played in Boston.

Marty Satalino of St. John's attacked referee Tony Agatiello in the second quarter and pushed him to the floor. In the fourth period Satalino came off the bench to which he had been banished and wrestled Joe Liebler of Holy Cross. This time police took him off the court as the crowd swarmed on the floor. Police warned the fans they would be prosecuted if they didn't stay in their seats.

Royals Regain Second Place

(By The Associated Press)

The Rochester Royals are back in second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association today because they used the simple expedient of beating their closest rival for the spot.

In a doubleheader at Milwaukee last night, the Royals defeated the Fort Wayne Pistons 89-70 for the sixth time in nine games. The defeat dropped the Pistons into third place, a half-game back of the Royals.

The Pholidelphia Warriors' drive for a playoff spot in the Eastern Division was halted by the Milwaukee Hawks 69-66.

Thea Royals, paced by Bobby Wanzer's 22 points, jumped into an early lead and never were headed. At one stage they held a bulge of 22 points.

IBC Moves to Assist Small Club Boxing

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—The International Boxing Club today took a step toward helping revive boxing's small clubs by offering to underwrite non-televised "new talent" promotions by Charley Johnston at St. Nicholas Arena on Tuesday nights.

Under a tentative plan, outlined by Managing Director Harry Markson the IBC will provide enough cash to assure a profitable promotion for Johnston. If the plan goes through, the shows will start Feb. 16 and continue at least through April.

Racing

Miami, Fla. — Rush Prince ($14.90) won the first and Lot-A-Brass ($6.40) took the second division of the North Bay purse at Hialeah.

Wodstock Varsity changed its script to shell a talent-laden Victory Bakery quintet, 96-69, last night on the village court.

The tenth victory for Coach Walter Van Wagenen's cagers could easily have been their most impressive of the season. The 96 points was one of their top efforts.

Instead of taking their usual third-period siesta, the villagers bounced back with 29 points and finished off the Bakers with a 27-point stretch period. The winners led 38-33 at the half.

Waterous Stars

Billy Waterous, obviously recovered from an ankle sprain suffered last week, continued to hit with an amazing percentage of shots. He led the club with 23 last night and got 17 of those in the final quarter.

Bib Bill Kleine finished with 20 points, sixteen in the second half.

Jim Riehl played another strong game under the boards for Woodstock and contributed 20 points to the winning kitty. "Boo" Schaffer hit with 13.

George Telepas, the former KHS sharpshooter and minor league pitcher home on vacation from Cortland, led the Bakers with 19 points. Bob Kozlowski rimmed 16 and Bill DuBois, late of Oneonta State Teachers, collected only five. Eddie Van Loan had 12 for the losers.

High School Five Rallies to Defeat Ellenville High, 71-52

54 Teams Vie for $1323 Jackpot In KBA's 17th Annual Tourney Opening Monday at Ferraro's

Fifty-four five-man squads will be shooting for a jackpot of $1323.75 in the 17th annual Kingston Bowling Association tenpin championships that get under way Monday, Feb. 8, at 7 p. m. at Ferraro's Bowlodrome.

There is no bowling scheduled Tuesday.

A single squad is slated Wednesday at 7 p. m. and the five-man shooting ends with two squads on Thursday, Feb. 11, at 7 and 9 p. m.

Sinbles and doubles shooting opens Saturday, Feb. 13, at 7:30 p. m., also at the Bowlodrome.

The Sunday, Feb. 14, competition opens at 3 p. m., with another squad at 6 p. m. and the final at 8 o'clock.

Raible Honored

John Raible, one of the oldest active bowlers in Kingston, will throw the first ball officially opening the tournament on Monday.

Raible, 78, began his bowling career in 1912 and has been active in the sport without interruption since then. He was a member of the old City League for several years and recently has been affiliated with the CYO League and YMCA Mercantile. He is a member of the Fuller Shirt squad.

First place in the team event carries a guaranteed prize of $150.00, the highest in KBA history. Second place is worth $100.00.

Guaranteed prizes for firsts in other events are: Doubles, $50.00; singles, $25.00. A total of 86 all-events entries have been registered. First place in that division is worth $20.00.

President William R. Murray, Secretary Irwin J. Thomas and Tournament Manager Emmanuel Colao are in charge of the annual tournament.

The DUSO League basketball picture remained unchanged last night and the only note of interest on Tuesday's slate is the NFA trip to Monticello.

There, on the Sullivan county boards, the Goldbacks might possibly relinquish their claim to the DUSO championship after two straight years of conference domination.

Kingston High overcame a sluggish start to roll over Ellenville, 71-52, at the southern Ulster court. Earlier in the day, Poughkeepsie's powerful Blues crushed Fallsburg Central, 71-32, at Sam Kalloch's favorite bailiwick.

In other games, Liberty High surprised Middletown, 58-50, by leading all the way and the improving Port Jervis quintet toppled Monticello, 62-50.

A red hot Eddie Knight sparked Ellenville to a 16-10 margin over Kingston in the first period and it wasn't until late in the first half that the Maroons could move ahead, 30-27, at the buzzer.

For the Kiasmen it was their 10th straight DUSO victory and 11 in a row for the season, the outside win coming against Catskill.

Third Period Spree

Kingston broke the game apart with a 23-9 romp in the third period when Dick Bezemer collected twelve of his 24 points and Ray Lawrence got six. Skip Brodhead, who hit consistently through the first three periods, finished with 20 points and Lawrence totalled 13 for his best night of the season. Knight tailed off in the second half for the Ellies but managed 21 points.

Fallsburg was handicapped by the absence of Dave Kwartler and an early-game injury to Irv Kasofsky but the presence of either or both for full time duty would hardly have affected the result of Poughkeepsie. The Blues held the Comets scoreless from the field in the first quarter to run up a 22-4 lead.

Don Dahowski led Poughkeepsie with 23 points.

Morris Miller paced Liberty with 20 points and Irv Mullens hit 17 against Middletown. Bill Williams scored 19 for the Middies.

Dick Tenczek's 16 points sparked the Port Jervis triumph over Monticello. Mendy Ringle, Monticello's All-DUSO candidate, and Irv Trachtenburg scored 17 apiece for the mountaineers.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano

A research assistant professor of meteorology at NYU, Prof. Jerome Spar, advised Bill Wallace recently not to throw the skis in the fireplace and indicated things might get better before they get worse. Further conclusions by Prof. Spar:

1. Yes, it has been getting warmer in recent winters, just a bit warmer.

2. It could get colder any time.

3. Old fashioned winters grandfather knew were not much better in terms of snow than the current ones.

Like many meteorologists, Spar is loath to make flat predictions. "There is nothing definite about the weather," he says, "except that it changes."

It isn't true winters were much more severe a generation ago. For example, the mean January temperatures for New York city between 1921 and 1926 came to 34.1 degrees compared to 35.6 for 1946-54.

There were plenty of poor skiing years long ago, too. In 1900-01 only 9.2 inches of snow fell all winter in New York city. Best year was 1947-48, a 61.5 total.

Just be patient, Prof. Spar advises, it might snow any time.

SCHUSS NOTES:

Skiing was good last Sunday at Belleayre, says Rosemary Murphy. —No New Yorkers on slopes because "no skiing" report kept them in the city—good thing (but not for operators) because local people had a chance. Also snow would have disappeared if hordes of city-folk had been on the slopes. The popular thing to do, they tell us, is to stop off at Phoenicia Hotel for hot butter rum, then a huge steer at Brattains. Rosemary is plugging for an artificial ice rink—thinks it would do a marvelous business in the city. The department is inclined to ask: Are there really enough persons interested in skating to support a modern rink on a October-April basis? If so, why doesn't somebody start a petition and interest some private investor. U. S. Eastern Amateur Ski Associaiton has just compiled a list of over 500 ski films and where they can be obtained. There is no other place in the world where this information can be obtained. Address is USEASA, Executive Office, 30 Huntington avenue, Bostog, Mass.

DRAPER'S EDITORIAL:

"Ski New York" took a pleasant jibe at Art Draper of Belleayre for his failure to fill a space allotted for an editorial. Arthur's ghost said: "All day long it's selling tow tickets, renting equipment, making arrangements for instructions, answering questions, assisting in securing lodgings. Night falls—Art is able to steal a little time for some shut eye. And he has earned it! The sweet music of ringing cash registers and eager skiers continued in his dreams. So, we won't censure Art. He's a busy man with his snow business." No formal date has been set for opening of the Belleayre Lodge, but the heating apparatus has been installed and the swank layout should be opened by the end of February. Draper, the popular superintendent at Belleayre, points out that operators have learned from experience that skiing season definitely does not end in February. The ringing of the cash register continues throughout the entire month of March. Ever since Ernie Johnson, state meteorologist of the Albany Weather Bureau, startled folks with the fact that there are sections in New York state which have the highest average snowfall east of the Rocky Mountains, each ski center operator is trying to make certain that his area gets its share of the "dough in the snow."

A QUESTION ANSWERED:

A week ago we commented on the absence of a ski team and faculty staff advisor at Kingston High. Today we have a reasonable explanation. The ski team, like some other items, became a casualty of the stepped-up academic system "the stay after school" regime instituted at the Broadway school about a year ago.

In order to "keep everything equal," the proponents of the plan, designed to assist backward students, decided to abolish all preferential treatment. Before the plan was started, qualified KHS ski students and members of the varsity took off every Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for ski resorts to receive instructions and practice. And they received phys ed credits skiing sessions which were supervised by Miss Pat Nalton.

When the Friday time was rescinded, interest among the ski students nosedived. There have been a few Saturday excursions to the mountains on the students' own time this year but the enthusiasm isn't there. Miss Jane La Motte of the Faculty has supervised these trips. The academic setup may be changed somewhat by next year and a ski varsity is a possibility.

Growing Biddy Basketball Holds Its National Tourney At Peoria on March 25-27

Teams from 11 states, Canada and Puerto Rico are expected to compete in Third National Biddy basketball tournament at Peoria, Ill., March 25-27.

This is basketball for boys from 9 to 12 and girls from 9 to 13.

The basket, instead of being 10 feet from the floor, is 8½. The court, instead of being 90 by 50 feet, is 60 by 40. The ball is smaller, the foul line 12 feet from the backboard.

Biddy Basketball had its start 10 years ago. There was the tedious process of lowering the baskets, the use of volley, soccer, rubber balls, etc. There were many hours of shooting from a 15, 13, 10, and finally a 12-foot foul line. In 1950, when all changes were incorporated, Biddy Basketball was developed.

Tremendous Growth

Biddy Basketball has grown tremendously. It is now played in 44 states and Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Canada, Panama, Nova Scotia, Venezuela, Chile, Holland, Belgium and Germany.

Last year, the Norristown, Pa., Young Men's Christian Association All-Star team was defeated by Peoria for the championship, 57-54.

Ralph Cottman, All-America selection after the tournament, holds the scoring record of 56 points for a game. Ralph, now 12, was then 11 and playing for the Hawks, whom he captains, against the Colts in a league game on the Norristown YMCA floor. He stands 4 feet 8, weighs 92 pounds.

Biddy Basketball can definitely be an effective part of the grade school program.

Selvy-Gola Duel Heads Tonight's Cage Schedule

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—Sixteen of the nation's top 20 college basketball teams—including the three remaining unbeaten major quintets—hit the boards tonight in the sport's biggest night of the winter.

Top ranking Kentucky goes after its 16th straight against Georgia at Owensburg, Ky., in a match which Kentucky coach Adolph Rupp calls "as ridiculous as kissing your own sister." The Wildcats scorched Georgia 106-55 Thursday night.

Fourth ranking Western Kentucky seeks its 22nd in a row against Eastern Kentucky, already twice a victim of the Hilltoppers this season.

Duquesne, No. 2, takes on the talent laden Quantico Marines in a game billed as an exhibition. This means the Dukes' 18-game all winning streak won't be in jeopardy, although a loss might dim its lustre.

Selvy-Gola Duel

From the standpoint of individual talent the game of the night should be in Philadelphia where Frank Selvy of Furman meets Tom Gola of LaSalle for first time. Earlier this week Selvy broke the all-time major college three year scoring record of 1,888 points and now has 1,946. Gola is the only member of last year's All America team still active in college ball. Furman has won nine straight after a poor start but is the underdog against the ninth-ranking Explorers.

Four of the top 20 teams play each other with top billing going to the George Washington-Duke engagement at Durham, N. C. Duke was No. 8 in the latest Associated Press poll while the Generals, No. 11, were only a vote short of the top 10. Bradley, No. 18, plays Wichita, No. 14.

Indiana's NCAA champions return to Big Ten action against Michigan State. The once-beaten Hoosiers currently rank third behind Kentucky and Duquesne.

Holy Cross got enough action last night in beating St. John's of Brooklyn 78-58 in what was described as the roughest and most disorderly game ever played in Boston.

Marty Satalino of St. John's attacked referee Tony Agatiello in the second quarter and pushed him to the floor. In the fourth period Satalino came off the bench to which he had been banished and wrestled Joe Liebler off Holy Cross. This time police took him off the court as the crowd swarmed on the floor. Police warned the fans they would be prosecuted if they didn't stay in their seats.

Royals Regain Second Place

(By The Associated Press)

The Rochester Royals are back in second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association today because they used the simple expedient of beating their closest rival for the spot.

In a doubleheader at Milwaukee last night, the Royals defeated the Fort Wayne Pistons 89-70 for the sixth time in nine games. The defeat dropped the Pistons into third place, a half-game back of the Royals.

The Pholidelphia Warriors' drive for a playoff spot in the Eastern Division was halted by the Milwaukee Hawks 69-66.

Thea Royals, paced by Bobby Wanzer's 22 points, jumped into an early lead and never were headed. At one stage they held a bulge of 22 points.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

Something that never ceases to amaze me is the way fish will ignore a man swimming underwater.

A few fish I have met, notably the smallmouth bass, snook and the barracuda are downright curious, but most fish simply go about their business.

If you're using an aqua-lung, a jet of bubbles will frighten them. In fact many a spearfisherman has avoided the unpleasant caresses of a shark or barracuda by blowing great gulps of air through his mouthpiece. All of which leads to some speculation that should be of value to the angler floating above.

A Paradise of Fish

Down Florida way, Bob O'Brien, a local man about spears, stopped by one blowy afternoon and asked me if I wanted to see the greatest concentration of fish this side of Paradise.

We took fins and snorkel and went to Jupiter inlet, where angling has been sporadically terrible and fantastic. The water was murky when we slipped off the rocks, but after a few minutes we'd paddle ont in the tide and I could see the bottom quite easily.

We passed a long stretch of barren bottom and then suddenly the water was blue with fish, old chopper mouth himself—the bluefish. They made a ripping sound as they shot by and for a minute I felt like walking across the surface. Bob rolled porpoise like for the bottom. I followed, and in eight or 10 feet of water, I saw them—row upon row—school upon school of snook, and under the snook stacked like quarters in a pin ball machine were regiments of silvery pompano.

Why They Lay Dodo?

I am unable to report why great shoals of fish should lay dodo, and am even more befuddled to find that they blend like layers in a cake. Even as I went back to the surface, the blues came roaring overhead and again like runaway rockets.

Bob explained that these fish had been holed up for at least a week, and even though several of his angling friends worked the spot regularly, the only fish they could catch was an occasional pompano on the bottom. Figure that one out.

Giardello Stops Walter Cartier On 3 Knockdowns

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—"From now on, call me Jolting Joey."

Joe Giardello, a technical knockout winner over Walter Cartier in 2:48 of the first round, was talking about himself last night in his dressing room.

"I like the feel of those knockdowns," he said. "I've been letting those guys get off the hook too long. From now on, I'm out to stop 'em all."

It was the second straight fight in which Joe's opponent had failed to last the limit. He stopped Garth Panter, the rugged Salt Lake mauler, in his last previous start, Jan. 8. That was the first time Panter hadn't gone the route.

Giardello dropped Cartier three times automatically stopping the fight under rules of the New York State Athletic Commission. Referee Harry Kessler ended matters as soon as the 29-year-old New York veteran went down for the third time, all from right hands.

Cartier weighed 161, to Giardello's 157¼.

Three-Way Tie In Phoenix Open

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 6 (AP)—It was the deep south against the British Empire, with a threat from Oklahoma, as play swung into the third round of the $10,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament today.

Leading the way were Peter Thomson of Australia, Stan Leonard of Canada and Cary Middlecoff from Memphis, Tenn., tied at 133 for the 36 holes.

Just one stroke back was an exruberant young man from Tulsa, Bob Inman, who broke in as a cady on the same tournament site, the Phoenix Country Club, in 1942, when he was in the Navy stationed in Phoenix.

Thomson, 24-year-old 1952 Australian Open champion and regarded as one of the finest young prospects in the world, followed his first round 64 with a respectable 69. Middlecoff's 65 ushered him immediately to the front rank.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

Something that never ceases to amaze me is the way fish will ignore a man swimming underwater.

A few fish I have met, notably the smallmouth bass, snook and the barracuda are downright curious, but most fish simply go about their business.

If you're using an aqua-lung, a jet of bubbles will frighten them. In fact many a spearfisherman has avoided the unpleasant caresses of a shark or barracuda by blowing great gulps of air through his mouthpiece. All of which leads to some speculation that should be of value to the angler floating above.

A Paradise of Fish

Down Florida way, Bob O'Brien, a local man about spears, stopped by one blowy afternoon and asked me if I wanted to see the greatest concentration of fish this side of Paradise.

We took fins and snorkel and went to Jupiter inlet, where angling has been sporadically terrible and fantastic. The water was murky when we slipped off the rocks, but after a few minutes we'd paddle ont in the tide and I could see the bottom quite easily.

We passed a long stretch of barren bottom and then suddenly the water was blue with fish, old chopper mouth himself—the bluefish. They made a ripping sound as they shot by and for a minute I felt like walking across the surface. Bob rolled porpoise like for the bottom. I followed, and in eight or 10 feet of water, I saw them—row upon row—school upon school of snook, and under the snook stacked like quarters in a pin ball machine were regiments of silvery pompano.

Why They Lay Dodo?

I am unable to report why great shoals of fish should lay dodo, and am even more befuddled to find that they blend like layers in a cake. Even as I went back to the surface, the blues came roaring overhead and again like runaway rockets.

Bob explained that these fish had been holed up for at least a week, and even though several of his angling friends worked the spot regularly, the only fish they could catch was an occasional pompano on the bottom. Figure that one out.

Giardello Stops Walter Cartier On 3 Knockdowns

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—"From now on, call me Jolting Joey."

Joe Giardello, a technical knockout winner over Walter Cartier in 2:48 of the first round, was talking about himself last night in his dressing room.

"I like the feel of those knockdowns," he said. "I've been letting those guys get off the hook too long. From now on, I'm out to stop 'em all."

It was the second straight fight in which Joe's opponent had failed to last the limit. He stopped Garth Panter, the rugged Salt Lake mauler, in his last previous start, Jan. 8. That was the first time Panter hadn't gone the route.

Giardello dropped Cartier three times automatically stopping the fight under rules of the New York State Athletic Commission. Referee Harry Kessler ended matters as soon as the 29-year-old New York veteran went down for the third time, all from right hands.

Cartier weighed 161, to Giardello's 157¼.

Three-Way Tie In Phoenix Open

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 6 (AP)—It was the deep south against the British Empire, with a threat from Oklahoma, as play swung into the third round of the $10,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament today.

Leading the way were Peter Thomson of Australia, Stan Leonard of Canada and Cary Middlecoff from Memphis, Tenn., tied at 133 for the 36 holes.

Just one stroke back was an exruberant young man from Tulsa, Bob Inman, who broke in as a cady on the same tournament site, the Phoenix Country Club, in 1942, when he was in the Navy stationed in Phoenix.

Thomson, 24-year-old 1952 Australian Open champion and regarded as one of the finest young prospects in the world, followed his first round 64 with a respectable 69. Middlecoff's 65 ushered him immediately to the front rank.

Additional Pay Of $22,320 Cited In Teacher Series

(This is the fourth in a series of stories about the teacher in the Kingston public school system, with particular attention to his request for a pay increase.)

It has been called to our attention that in breaking down the present salary schedule in the second story of the series we failed to account for $22,320 in money paid to teachers for extra services.

Eight principals of elementary schools and the principal of the Myron J. Michael School received an additional $900 each.

The vice principal of the high school receives an additional $1,100.

The directors of vocational and adult education receives an extra $1,100 as does the director of physical education, the director of music and the director of guidance.

Extras Are Listed

There are also additional amounts totaling $9,020 which go to department heads, coaches, dean of girls, teacher in charge of the yearbook, the choir director, the treasurer, an extra month of work by the directors of guidance and to teachers with MA degrees.

There are 236 teachers included in the 16 steps of the present salary schedule.

Some of these, however, are not actually classroom teachers. They are principals, nurses, doctors and dentists, attendance officers and "specials."

The specials include teachers in speech, vocal and instrumental music, reading, writing, art, athletics, guidance and audio-visual work.

There are two attendance officers, four nurses, five doctors and dentists and 12 specials, a total of 23.

Exaggeration Claimed

We have also heard the feeling expressed that the teachers overstated the amount of training required when they claimed it took "almost" as much as required by a doctor and lawyer.

A check with a Kingston attorney disclosed that "in most instances" the study of law is a "postgraduate course." That is, it requires a college degree plus three years of law study. Some colleges, however, do permit students to enter law school in their fourth year—which means that it would take them six years to complete their studies.

For a degree in medicine three or four years of college is required in order to enter medical school, a local physician pointed out.

After four years in medical school most states require a minimum of one year interning for general practice. Some require two years.

To specialize the doctor must have from three to six years of postgraduate hospital training depending on the type of specialty chosen.

Teacher Education

The teacher must now have an AB degree to begin teaching. The AB requires four years of study. A number of teachers in the Kingston schools have the MA which requires five years. Some have studied beyond the MA.

However, many of the local teachers have less than a college degree. These are the teachers who received permanent teaching certificates prior to 1941. Since 1941 an AB degree is required to teach in the elementary grades and an MA or its equivalent (30 credits beyond the AB) to teach in the high school.

It was pointed out, however, that in some cases a teacher with only an AB may be issued a temporary license to teach on the high school level. He must obtain his MA within 10 years, however.

Friends Say He'll Wed

San Jose, Costa Rica, Feb. 6 (AP)—President Jose Figueres is going to marry another American woman, his friends said today. The U. S. educated president's new bride, they said, will be Rita Karen Olsen, 23, of Westchester Heights, N. Y. Miss Olsen, a pretty blonde who holds a doctor of philosophy degree from Columbia University, has been here about a month. The wedding date has not been fixed. Figueres, 47, was divorced last Jan. 1 by the former Henriette Boggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Boggs of Birmingham, Ala.

Police Capture Three

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—A 10-mile chase at 80 miles an hour through Suffolk county early last night ended with three Brooklynites being captured in Commack, L. I., by pursuing city and state police. The trio was taken to police headquarters in Manhattan for questioning regarding a safe-cracking job in Brooklyn last Saturday night which was foiled by police. Finally overhauled in Commack after state police had set up roadblocks in the area, the three taken into custody were identified by police as Michale Adipietro, 21, of 98 Harrison Place; George Kirschbaum, 18, of 55 Wycof avenue, and Edward Burkhardt, 17, of 218 Jackson avenue, all Brooklyn.

$400 Pay Roll Snatched

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—A $400 pay roll was stolen from a young woman pay roll clerk yesterday as she was bringing the money to the third floor of her employer, National Dye and Button Company, at 541 West 34th street. The clerk, Miss Susan Strazzillo, 21, of 143-74 Ash avenue, Flushing, Queens, said she was accosted between the second and third floors of the building while walking up the stairs. She said she struggled with the thief, a young man, but that he grabbed an envelope containing the money, pushed her away and ran down the stairs before she could spread an alarm.

Film Dispute Settled

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—A contract dispute which had threatened to close some 800 motion picture theatres in New York and New Jersey was settled yesterday. JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Signals Will Pay In Bridge Game

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The purpose of a defensive signal is to give your partner vital information. If the signal cannot be read, it has failed in its purpose. These obvious facts were missed in a recent team of four match, with rather interesting results.

Strangely enough, at both tables the South player decided to open the bidding with one no-trump. The count is only 15 points, but the strong five-card suit seemed to offer adequate compensation. Both South players got their just deserts when they were bounced into a slam contract by their partners.

It is impossible to blame North for taking an ambitious view with his hand. He had a count of 16 points and knows that his partner should have from 16 to 18 points. North has two fairly good four-card suits and should expect that there will be a reasonable play for the slam.

The fault for the rather foolish bidding lies with South. Almost any bid can be shaded by one point, but it doesn't pay to shade the bids that promise a definite number of points, such as opening bids in no-trump.

In the first room, West opened the king of clubs, and his partner signaled enthusiastically by playing the three of clubs. This card may have looked like an enthusiastic signal to East, but it was far too deep for West to read.

West feared that South was holding off with the ace-jack of clubs. He therefore shifted to a spade, hoping that declarer would not have 12 tricks. South heaved a big sigh of relief and spread the hand for the rest of the tricks, making his slam contract.

When the hand was played in the other room at the same ridiculous slam contract, West likewise led the king of clubs. In this case, the East player was too cautious to leave anything to chance. Fearing (quite wisely) that South would not be able to read the meaning of the three of clubs, East overtook with the ace.

East then returned a club to make sure of defeating the contract. West continued with the clubs, taking five tricks to set the conract four! The difference between the two defenses amounted to 1840 points.

Clean-up Move

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—The independent International Longshoremen's Assn. has announced plans to consolidate 15 of its New York and New Jersey's waterfront locals into four units. The plan, which had been suggested by John L. Lewis, was disclosed yesterday. It has as one of its aims the elimination of racketeering elements now in control of some ILA locals. This clean-up move is reportedly one of the conditions set by Lewis for lending the support of his United Mine Workers to the ILA in its battle with the AFL.

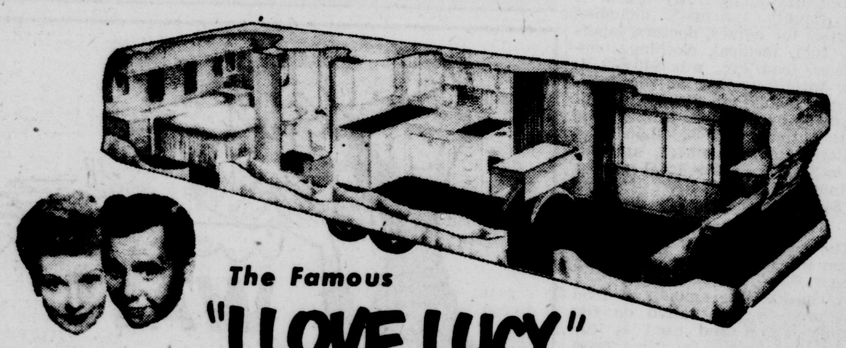

Renew Strike Threat

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—AFL musicians have renewed the threat of a strike which could choke off all "live" music from shows originating in New York on four major radio and television networks. Union officials broke off negotiations yesterday after meeting with representatives of ABC, CBS, NBC and Mutual networks. A spokesman for Local 802 said there would be no extension of a Feb. 15 strike deadline which has been set to back up demands for use of more "live" music instead of recorded music.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Signals Will Pay In Bridge Game

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The purpose of a defensive signal is to give your partner vital information. If the signal cannot be read, it has failed in its purpose. These obvious facts were missed in a recent team of four match, with rather interesting results.

Strangely enough, at both tables the South player decided to open the bidding with one no-trump. The count is only 15 points, but the strong five-card suit seemed to offer adequate compensation. Both South players got their just deserts when they were bounced into a slam contract by their partners.

It is impossible to blame North for taking an ambitious view with his hand. He had a count of 16 points and knows that his partner should have from 16 to 18 points. North has two fairly good four-card suits and should expect that there will be a reasonable play for the slam.

The fault for the rather foolish bidding lies with South. Almost any bid can be shaded by one point, but it doesn't pay to shade the bids that promise a definite number of points, such as opening bids in no-trump.

In the first room, West opened the king of clubs, and his partner signaled enthusiastically by playing the three of clubs. This card may have looked like an enthusiastic signal to East, but it was far too deep for West to read.

West feared that South was holding off with the ace-jack of clubs. He therefore shifted to a spade, hoping that declarer would not have 12 tricks. South heaved a big sigh of relief and spread the hand for the rest of the tricks, making his slam contract.

When the hand was played in the other room at the same ridiculous slam contract, West likewise led the king of clubs. In this case, the East player was too cautious to leave anything to chance. Fearing (quite wisely) that South would not be able to read the meaning of the three of clubs, East overtook with the ace.

East then returned a club to make sure of defeating the contract. West continued with the clubs, taking five tricks to set the conract four! The difference between the two defenses amounted to 1840 points.

Clean-up Move

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—The independent International Longshoremen's Assn. has announced plans to consolidate 15 of its New York and New Jersey's waterfront locals into four units. The plan, which had been suggested by John L. Lewis, was disclosed yesterday. It has as one of its aims the elimination of racketeering elements now in control of some ILA locals. This clean-up move is reportedly one of the conditions set by Lewis for lending the support of his United Mine Workers to the ILA in its battle with the AFL.

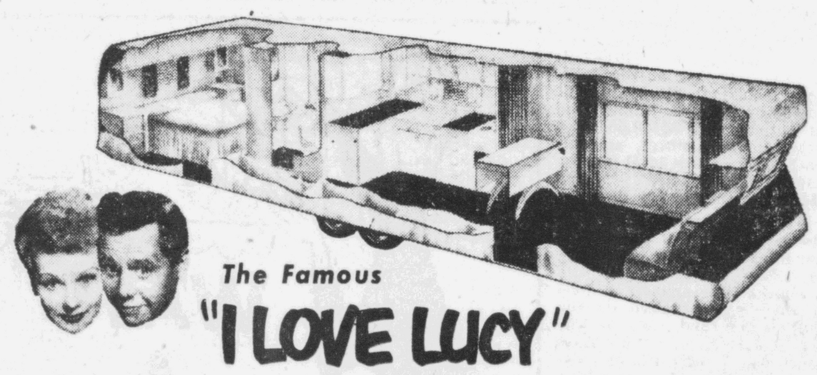

Renew Strike Threat

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—AFL musicians have renewed the threat of a strike which could choke off all "live" music from shows originating in New York on four major radio and television networks. Union officials broke off negotiations yesterday after meeting with representatives of ABC, CBS, NBC and Mutual networks. A spokesman for Local 802 said there would be no extension of a Feb. 15 strike deadline which has been set to back up demands for use of more "live" music instead of recorded music.

Officer on Ship Dies Of Polio Near Seattle

Seattle, Feb. 6 (AP) — Creeping death claimed the life of an army officer early today, even as a coast guard PBY crew prepared to take off on a mercy mission which would have been decided by the whims of the elements.

The officer, who was not identified, died from an acute attack of poliomyelitis aboard the troop transport Gen. M. M. Patrick at 2:30 a. m. (PST) as the big gray ship churned the waters of the Pacific toward Seattle.

The Patrick was due here tomorrow morning with 809 military and civilian passengers from the Far East. The passenger list included 205 military dependents and eight government employes. The rest were military personnel.

Coast guard headquarters declined to speculate whether Military Sea Transportation Service, operator of the Patrick, would quarantine the ship when it arrives.

The MSTS office could not be contacted immediately.

Granted Hearing

Brown on a charge of violation of Section 483 of the Penal Law, endangering the life and health of a child.

There to Take Notes

Washington, Feb. 6 (AP)—All those 6,500 people packed into a Washington arena last night for the Lincoln Day box supper President Eisenhower addressed weren't Republicans. Observers spotted a "spy" from the Democratic National Committee staff busily taking notes.

B&O Rail Collision Costs a Million

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 6 (AP)—A Baltimore and Ohio spokesman estimates damage at one million dollars in yesterday's collision of the crack National Limited and a switching engine.

B & O General Manager John Edwards said the accident, in which 13 units were derailed and seven persons injured, resulted when the engineer of the switching car moved out "beyond his orders."

The damage was to 300 yards of track, 10 passenger cars, a mail car, two diesel units—all of which were derailed—and to the switching engine. Three passenger cars remained on the tracks.

One of 600 passengers of the St. Louis-New York flier was injured. The other injured were railroad employes. All were treated at hospitals and discharged.

been diminished fear of the impact of a recession on the nation's economy, in the view of Wall Street.

And the Federal Reserve this week gave the easy money signal when it cut its discount rate to 1¾ per cent from 2 per cent. That will tend to make it cheaper for business to borrow.

Leadership in the market was good this week, and the action of volume was heartening to the bulls when it expanded with the rise in prices and fell back when prices retreated.

There was a pause in the market on Monday and Tuesday, an apparent period of quiet reaction following the sharp advances of the previous week.

The railroads led off with a rally early in the Wednesday session, and the motors gave it a late boost ahead.

It was the Thursday market that displayed the most strength. Leadership on the rise was rotated between major divisions, and volume passed the two-million mark.

The buying enthusiasm carried over into the Friday market with such power that orders to buy swamped the tape briefly right at the start. After that the market turned in an irregular performance with the day ending slightly ahead.

Most brokers in Wall street felt that the market still had to meet its major test and that it wasn't yet out of the woods, despite its record of five straight weekly advances.

The five most active issues this week on the New York stock exchange were:

Chrysler up 1 at 58¾ on 127,000 shares; Pepsi-Cola up ¾ at 15¼; Dow Chemical up ⅝ at 35; General Telephone up 1⅛ at 49⅜, and ACF Brill up ⅜ at 6⅞.

The five most active issues on the American Stock Exchange this week were:

U. S. Air Conditioning up ⅜ at 4⅝; Eureka Corp. Ltd. up 3/16 at 15/16; Great Lakes Oil up ⅝ at 2¾; New British Dominion Oils unchanged at 2 5/16, and Brown Co. unchanged at 12¼.

May End Crisis

Rome, Feb. 6 (AP) — A revived four-party center coalition stood ready with a common political program today, hopeful it will end Italy's extended political crisis. The leaders of the four pro-western parties—the Christian Democrats, Social Democrats, Liberals and Republicans — agreed on the program last night. They did not, however, reveal its details. They announced only that they would present it to the man President Luigi Einaudi picks to try to form a new government.

dence was considered imperative for the continuance of the school. Another problem awaiting our early attention is the resurfacing of the drive-way around the hospital, arranging for parking space, and erecting a permanent wall to prevent accidents.

Among our many blessings, we are grateful to our president, Right Reverend Monsignor Drury, whose advice and support is always available and most helpful. The interest and solicitude of Reverend Father Carey in the spiritual welfare of our patients is to be commended. At the present time, in our mother house in Elizabeth, N. J., there are several of our nurses as postulants and novices under the guidance and fostering care of our Reverend Mother Vincent. We expect that at some future date they will return to the nursing service in our hospital.

Progressive Trend

The concern and interest of our doctors toward the scientific aspect of medicine is encouraging proof of the progressive trend that prevails among them. This attitude has always been evident and has been noted particularly during the past year when the American Academy of Obstetrics and Gynecology of Chicago, Illinois, announced that Dr. Francis E. O'Connor had been elected a Fellow of the Academy; likewise, when Dr. Saul Ritchie was honored in receiving an International Fellowship with the title, F.I.C.S.; and, when Dr. Michael Diacovo absented himself from the hospital for three and a half years to specialize in obstetrics, gynecology and all related surgery at the Jersey City and Margaret Hague divisions of the Medical Center of Jersey City, New Jersey. Doctor is now qualified for the Boards Dr. Habeeb Maroon has also completed a year of post graduate work in surgery in the Memorial Hospital in New York. We are grateful to our doctors for the high standard of medical care given our patients and for their various other services to the hospital and the School of Nursing. At the present time there are two doctors on our approved residency service giving excellent care to our patients.

The nation's demand for hospital services has reached an all time high. The major factors involved in this great growth are increased membership in the Blue Cross and all other sickness insurance plans. The census of the Benedictine Hospital has increased daily since the opening of the new wing; the 1953 census shows one thousand patients more than 1952. The latter reminds us of the great need of a Nurses School and Residence.

Ladies' Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary has had a year of devoted service under the leadership of Mrs. John A. Cooke, Jr. Their usual activities, including the annual Easter Charity Ball, were all marked with success. The auxiliary sales or gift cart is a new venture and promises to be another leading project. The sales cart "started to roll" on January 5, and is meeting a great need. Mrs. George F. Einterz, chairman, and her able committee are fast becoming merchandisers in giving the patients and visitors what they want. The usual fine response was given the junior auxiliary annual 1953 Tea Dance. We are grateful for the loyal support of our auxiliaries.

Sincere thanks is due to the mayor and his department for their interest and continued services; the the chief of the fire department and his co-workers for the regular inspection of our buildings and other forms of service; to the Junior League for their continued book distribution to our patients; to the merchants for their fine spirit of cooperation when solicited for our cause; to the local press for the generous space given to the hospital publicity; to our many friends who have contributed flowers, fruit, magazines, papers, and other gifts for the comfort of our patients.

Reserved for special mention and highly deserving of it are the people, professional and non-professional, who actually performed the work of keeping an institution like ours in operation. Their interest and efforts have been joined together to make the Benedictine Hospital a center of service for the whole community irrespective of race, color, or creed.

Building Fund

The following is a brief resume of the 1951 Building Fund Campaign:

Total amount pledged at the end of campaign	$310,828.40
New and additional pledges	42,064.89
Total pledges as of December 31, 1953	$352,893.29
Total pledges paid	256,502.78
Unpaid pledges	$ 96,390.51

At this time we will ask our friends who have not as yet completed their campaign pledges, also those who for some reason have not yet made a pledge, to put forth every effort to contribute their share to the Benedictine Hospital Building Fund. Memorial plaques will be placed in the new addition during the coming months.

Lutheran Council Protests Film Ban

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 6 (AP)—The National Lutheran Council has concluded its annual meeting with a vigorous protest of the banning of the movie "Martin Luther" by the Canadian Province of Quebec.

The council yesterday passed a resolution stating the residents of the predominantly Catholic province have been denied "the right and privilege of seeing an historic film. . . ."

The 34 councilors also gave final approval to a council budget of $900,508 for 1954; a Lutheran world action fund drive of $2,600,000 for emergency uses; and a $1,750,000 fund for building more Lutheran student centers in U. S. colleges and universities.

Think If Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

The word, socialism, has been bandied about so much during the past two decades that a lot of people may have forgotten what it means.

Defined, it is: A political and economic theory of social organization based on collective or government ownership.

Mr. Hutton

What may be even more interesting is the list of words that are synonymous with socialism:

Collectivist, anarchist, Communist, Bolshevist.

Those Americans who, during recent years, have watched the steady drift toward more governmental ownership, production and distribution of goods and services ought to "bone up" on their definitions. Instead, too many have been shrugging their shoulders and keeping their palms open for the next governmental handout.

When the drifting tide has finally reached the shore of socialism, it will be too late to look up a definition.

The peoples of the once-great nations who fell behind the Iron Curtain of communism know that.

Dramatic Coffee Shop

Holbrook, Ariz. (AP)—When motorist Alva J. Chaney, 27, had trouble making a 90-degree turn on U. S. Highway 66 his car crossed a sidewalk, bowled over a parking meter and came to rest inside a restaurant. Chaney, shaken by the ride, ordered a cup of coffee.

Trail Is Hot

Delayed Sales Sought

Chelsea, Mass., (AP)—A sign outside the Canter & Sons Monumental Works, producers of cemetery headstones, urges motorists to "drive carefully, we can wait."

Love in Jail

Pittsburgh, (AP)—On his ninth wedding anniversary, the prisoner took her problem to the jailer, who went to the judge. Sure, said the judge, get the man's wife on the 'phone and read the loving message. It went this way: "Happy greetings on this, our ninth anniversary. I am terribly lonely, as there are only eight lovely women with me. But don't worry, the tipstaff is watching me. Take the $20 out of my pants pocket and buy yourself something, if you haven't already done so. Happy anniversary."

Electrical Tree

The electricity tree of central India is one of the oddest growths in nature. Its leaves are so full of electricity that you receive a shock if you touch them, and the tree influences magnetic needles 70 feet away.

YOU CAN AT LEAST AVOID THE MONEY WORRY

What if an accident kept you from working for several months? What if it cost you hundreds of dollars for medical, surgical, hospital and nurse expenses?

One person in 10 in America is either injured or killed in an accident every year — many right in their own homes.

We can write you a peach of an accident policy which pays $50 a week for total disability up to 200 weeks. After that, if you are permanently totally disabled, you get $30,000. Also you can get up to $1,000 for medical, surgical, hospital and nurse expenses. And liberal sums for loss of limbs or eyes.

Art From Nature

Santa Fe, N. M. (AP)—When artist Pansy Stockton gets ready to do a picture, she doesn't have to go to the art store for tubes of paint. Her so-called "sun-paintings" are made entirely from bits of coral, fiber, cork, milk-weed fluff, dried vegetation and native materials, none artificially colored.

Removing Fruit Stains

Fruit stains on tablecloths should be treated before laundering. Pour boiling water through the stain from a height of 3 to 4 feet. Do not use soap. For old stains, rub well with glycerine or a soapless shampoo and let stand for several hours before treating with boiling water.

Bus Strike Over

Port Chester, Feb. 6 (AP)—A settlement in the County Transportation Co. bus drivers' strike was announced last night by Mayor Anthony J. Posillipo who has been sitting in on the negotiation sessions. The 53 drivers and dispatchers, members of the Brotherhood Railway Trainmen, who struck January 15 received a pay raise of 6 cents an hour, 10½ cents less than their original demand, according to the settlement. The raise brings their pay to $1.67 an hour. The settlement was announced after the company and union had met for five and a half hours and the union had then held a two-hour meeting.

Officer on Ship Dies Of Polio Near Seattle

Seattle, Feb. 6 (AP) — Creeping death claimed the life of an army officer early today, even as a coast guard PBY crew prepared to take off on a mercy mission which would have been decided by the whims of the elements.

The officer, who was not identified, died from an acute attack of poliomyelitis aboard the troop transport Gen. M. M. Patrick at 2:30 a. m. (PST) as the big gray ship churned the waters of the Pacific toward Seattle.

The Patrick was due here tomorrow morning with 809 military and civilian passengers from the Far East. The passenger list included 205 military dependents and eight government employes. The rest were military personnel.

Coast guard headquarters declined to speculate whether Military Sea Transportation Service, operator of the Patrick, would quarantine the ship when it arrives.

The MSTS office could not be contacted immediately.

Granted Hearing

Norman William Witt, 24, of Ellenville, who appeared Friday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Clarence Rappleyea of the town of Ulster, was granted a preliminary hearing before that magistrate on Wednesday at 7 p. m. Witt, who was represented by Attorney Seymour Werbalowsky, was arrested in Kingston Tuesday night by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown on a charge of violation of Section 483 of the Penal Law, endangering the life and health of a child.

There to Take Notes

Washington, Feb. 6 (AP)—All those 6,500 people packed into a Washington arena last night for the Lincoln Day box supper President Eisenhower addressed weren't Republicans. Observers spotted a "spy" from the Democratic National Committee staff busily taking notes.

B&O Rail Collision Costs a Million

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 6 (AP)—A Baltimore and Ohio spokesman estimates damage at one million dollars in yesterday's collision of the crack National Limited and a switching engine.

B & O General Manager John Edwards said the accident, in which 13 units were derailed and seven persons injured, resulted when the engineer of the switching car moved out "beyond his orders."

The damage was to 300 yards of track, 10 passenger cars, a mail car, two diesel units—all of which were derailed—and to the switching engine. Three passenger cars remained on the tracks.

One of 600 passengers of the St. Louis-New York flier was injured. The other injured were railroad employes. All were treated at hospitals and discharged.

Stock Market

been diminished fear of the impact of a recession on the nation's economy, in the view of Wall Street.

And the Federal Reserve this week gave the easy money signal when it cut its discount rate to 1¾ per cent from 2 per cent. That will tend to make it cheaper for business to borrow.

Leadership in the market was good this week, and the action of volume was heartening to the bulls when it expanded with the rise in prices and fell back when prices retreated.

There was a pause in the market on Monday and Tuesday, an apparent period of quiet reaction following the sharp advances of the previous week.

The railroads led off with a rally early in the Wednesday session, and the motors gave it a late boost ahead.

It was the Thursday market that displayed the most strength. Leadership on the rise was rotated between major divisions, and volume passed the two-million mark.

The buying enthusiasm carried over into the Friday market with such power that orders to buy swamped the tape briefly right at the start. After that the market turned in an irregular performance with the day ending slightly ahead.

Most brokers in Wall street felt that the market still had to meet its major test and that it wasn't yet out of the woods, despite its record of five straight weekly advances.

The five most active issues this week on the New York stock exchange were:

Chrysler up 1 at 58¾ on 127,000 shares; Pepsi-Cola up ¾ at 15¼; Dow Chemical up ⅝ at 35; General Telephone up 1⅛ at 49⅜, and ACF Brill up ⅜ at 6⅞.

The five most active issues on the American Stock Exchange this week were:

U. S. Air Conditioning up ⅜ at 4⅝; Eureka Corp. Ltd. up 3/16 at 15/16; Great Lakes Oil up ⅝ at 2¾; New British Dominion Oils unchanged at 2 5/16, and Brown Co. unchanged at 12¼.

May End Crisis

Rome, Feb. 6 (AP) — A revived four-party center coalition stood ready with a common political program today, hopeful it will end Italy's extended political crisis. The leaders of the four pro-western parties—the Christian Democrats, Social Democrats, Liberals and Republicans — agreed on the program last night. They did not, however, reveal its details. They announced only that they would present it to the man President Luigi Einaudi picks to try to form a new government.

Benedictine . . .

dence was considered imperative for the continuance of the school. Another problem awaiting our early attention is the resurfacing of the drive-way around the hospital, arranging for parking space, and erecting a permanent wall to prevent accidents.

Among our many blessings, we are grateful to our president, Right Reverend Monsignor Drury, whose advice and support is always available and most helpful. The interest and solicitude of Reverend Father Carey in the spiritual welfare of our patients is to be commended. At the present time, in our mother house in Elizabeth, N. J., there are several of our nurses as postulants and novices under the guidance and fostering care of our Reverend Mother Vincent. We expect that at some future date they will return to the nursing service in our hospital.

Progressive Trend

The concern and interest of our doctors toward the scientific aspect of medicine is encouraging proof of the progressive trend that prevails among them. This attitude has always been evident and has been noted particularly during the past year when the American Academy of Obstetrics and Gynecology of Chicago, Illinois, announced that Dr. Francis E. O'Connor had been elected a Fellow of the Academy; likewise, when Dr. Saul Ritchie was honored in receiving an International Fellowship with the title, F.I.C.S.; and, when Dr. Michael Diacovo absented himself from the hospital for three and a half years to specialize in obstetrics, gynecology and all related surgery at the Jersey City and Margaret Hague divisions of the Medical Center of Jersey City, New Jersey. Doctor is now qualified for the Boards Dr. Habeeb Maroon has also completed a year of post graduate work in surgery in the Memorial Hospital in New York. We are grateful to our doctors for the high standard of medical care given our patients and for their various other services to the hospital and the School of Nursing. At the present time there are two doctors on our approved residency service giving excellent care to our patients.

The nation's demand for hospital services has reached an all time high. The major factors involved in this great growth are increased membership in the Blue Cross and all other sickness insurance plans. The census of the Benedictine Hospital has increased daily since the opening of the new wing; the 1953 census shows one thousand patients more than 1952. The latter reminds us of the great need of a Nurses School and Residence.

Ladies' Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary has had a year of devoted service under the leadership of Mrs. John A. Cooke, Jr. Their usual activities, including the annual Easter Charity Ball, were all marked with success. The auxiliary sales or gift cart is a new venture and promises to be another leading project. The sales cart "started to roll" on January 5, and is meeting a great need. Mrs. George F. Einterz, chairman, and her able committee are fast becoming merchandisers in giving the patients and visitors what they want. The usual fine response was given the junior auxiliary annual 1953 Tea Dance. We are grateful for the loyal support of our auxiliaries.

Sincere thanks is due to the mayor and his department for their interest and continued services; the the chief of the fire department and his co-workers for the regular inspection of our buildings and other forms of service; to the Junior League for their continued book distribution to our patients; to the merchants for their fine spirit of cooperation when solicited for our cause; to the local press for the generous space given to the hospital publicity; to our many friends who have contributed flowers, fruit, magazines, papers, and other gifts for the comfort of our patients.

Reserved for special mention and highly deserving of it are the people, professional and non-professional, who actually performed the work of keeping an institution like ours in operation. Their interest and efforts have been joined together to make the Benedictine Hospital a center of service for the whole community irrespective of race, color, or creed.

Building Fund

The following is a brief resume of the 1951 Building Fund Campaign:

Total amount pledged at the end of campaign	$310,828.40
New and additional pledges	42,064.89
Total pledges as of December 31, 1953	$352,893.29
Total pledges paid	256,502.78
Unpaid pledges	$ 96,390.51

At this time we will ask our friends who have not as yet completed their campaign pledges, also those who for some reason have not yet made a pledge, to put forth every effort to contribute their share to the Benedictine Hospital Building Fund. Memorial plaques will be placed in the new addition during the coming months.

Lutheran Council Protests Film Ban

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 6 (AP)—The National Lutheran Council has concluded its annual meeting with a vigorous protest of the banning of the movie "Martin Luther" by the Canadian Province of Quebec.

The council yesterday passed a resolution stating the residents of the predominantly Catholic province have been denied "the right and privilege of seeing an historic film. . . ."

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

The word, socialism, has been bandied about so much during the past two decades that a lot of people may have forgotten what it means.

Defined, it is: A political and economic theory of social organization based on collective or government ownership.

Mr. Hutton

What may be even more interesting is the list of words that are synonymous with socialism:

Collectivist, anarchist, Communist, Bolshevist.

Those Americans who, during recent years, have watched the steady drift toward more governmental ownership, production and distribution of goods and services ought to "bone up" on their definitions. Instead, too many have been shrugging their shoulders and keeping their palms open for the next governmental handout.

When the drifting tide has finally reached the shore of socialism, it will be too late to look up a definition.

The peoples of the once-great nations who fell behind the Iron Curtain of communism know that.

Dramatic Coffee Shop

Holbrook, Ariz. (AP)—When motorist Alva J. Chaney, 27, had trouble making a 90-degree turn on U. S. Highway 66 his car crossed a sidewalk, bowled over a parking meter and came to rest inside a restaurant. Chaney, shaken by the ride, ordered a cup of coffee.

Trail Is Hot

Delayed Sales Sought

Chelsea, Mass., (AP)—A sign outside the Canter & Sons Monumental Works, producers of cemetery headstones, urges motorists to "drive carefully, we can wait."

Love in Jail

Pittsburgh, (AP)—On his ninth wedding anniversary, the prisoner took her problem to the jailer, who went to the judge. Sure, said the judge, get the man's wife on the 'phone and read the loving message. It went this way: "Happy greetings on this, our ninth anniversary. I am terribly lonely, as there are only eight lovely women with me. But don't worry, the tipstaff is watching me. Take the $20 out of my pants pocket and buy yourself something, if you haven't already done so. Happy anniversary."

Electrical Tree

The electricity tree of central India is one of the oddest growths in nature. Its leaves are so full of electricity that you receive a shock if you touch them, and the tree influences magnetic needles 70 feet away.

YOU CAN AT LEAST AVOID THE MONEY WORRY

What if an accident kept you from working for several months? What if it cost you hundreds of dollars for medical, surgical, hospital and nurse expenses?

One person in 10 in America is either injured or killed in an accident every year — many right in their own homes.

We can write you a peach of an accident policy which pays $50 a week for total disability up to 200 weeks. After that, if you are permanently totally disabled, you get $30,000. Also you can get up to $1,000 for medical, surgical, hospital and nurse expenses. And liberal sums for loss of limbs or eyes.

Apparently the only people who never get colds and sore throats, and whose cars never break down, are bill collectors. They never fail to show up.

Art From Nature

Santa Fe, N. M. (AP)—When artist Pansy Stockton gets ready to do a picture, she doesn't have to go to the art store for tubes of paint. Her so-called "sun-paintings" are made entirely from bits of coral, fiber, cork, milk-weed fluff, dried vegetation and native materials, none artificially colored.

Removing Fruit Stains

Fruit stains on tablecloths should be treated before laundering. Pour boiling water through the stain from a height of 3 to 4 feet. Do not use soap. For old stains, rub well with glycerine or a soapless shampoo and let stand for several hours before treating with boiling water.

Bus Strike Over

Port Chester, Feb. 6 (AP)—A settlement in the County Transportation Co. bus drivers' strike was announced last night by Mayor Anthony J. Posillipo who has been sitting in on the negotiation sessions. The 53 drivers and dispatchers, members of the Brotherhood Railway Trainmen, who struck January 15 received a pay raise of 6 cents an hour, 10½ cents less than their original demand, according to the settlement. The raise brings their pay to $1.67 an hour. The settlement was announced after the company and union had met for five and a half hours and the union had then held a two-hour meeting.
